WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Next to the details in the scheme of constructive corporation legislation which the administration will propose this winter the most interesting question is the chance any such measure will stand of passage through Congress.

It was learned today that this phase of the situation already has been considered in Cabinet circles and that it is believed success will be achieved through uniting of all the business interests of the country in support of a comprehensive measure.

At a casual glance it would appear difficult to obtain any unity of Congressional action with control divided between the parties, factional lines even more serious than party divisions existing in the Senate, and a Presidential campaign that makes every element jealous of advancement likely to be claimed by any other element near at hand. It is pointed out, however, that business is business in every section of the country, that the industrial interests of the South are as vitally concerned over the question at issue as the business interests of the North and that once these interests combine and exert the power of their sentiment a dampener will be placed on the mere playing of politics. Herein lies the administration's hope.

DIVISION OF SENTIMENT.

Emphasis is being laid anew on the contention that one of the great troubles in reaching a proper balancing of trust laws, so to speak, has been the division of sentiment into two extremes. On the one side there has been a demand for the repeal of

SEND SOLDIERS FROM MANILA.

United States Regiment Will See Service in China.

Reign of Terror Prevails in the City of Nanking.

Rebels Pick Men to Cut Down Bloodthirsty Manchu.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The State Department has practically decided to send a regiment of troops from Manila to China, about 250 miles from Peking, on the Gulf of Pe-Chih. The purpose is to perform an international duty under the Boxer treaty in keeping open the line of communication between Peking and the sea.

It was said at the State Department that the request for troops had not been made on the War Department, but it was not so. The officials were careful to make it appear that the dispatch of these troops to China would be absolutely without any political meaning, and the movement was not to be construed as intervention.

UNDER THE TREATY. Under the treaty, which terminated the Boxer troubles, the United States, with other powers, was accorded the privilege of maintaining a military force along the line of railway between Peking and the sea, in order to guard against such an event as the siege of the legation during the Boxer rising.

Beyond the maintenance of a marine guard of 100 men (recently increased to 200), the United States has never availed itself of this permission, and it has fallen to the lot of other nations, principally Great Britain, France and Japan, to maintain small garrisons along the line of the road from Tien Tsin to Peking. It is felt that it is now incumbent upon the United States to perform its part of this duty, hence the decision to employ troops to supplement the marine guard.

NO DESIGNS ENTERTAINED. The fact that the force to be dispatched will be limited to one regiment is in itself an indication that there is no intention on the part of the United States government to intervene in any large military demonstration in China, or to take sides in the present great struggle for supremacy between the imperial forces and the revolutionary party; and it is declared that no designs upon Chinese territory are entertained.

The main consideration that prompted the State Department to act is said to be that the ports of the Gulf of Pe-Chih are closed by ice about this time every year, and it would be necessary to land troops now, if they were to be employed at all during the winter in China.

As Tien Tsin lies 40 miles up the river from the gulf, and is thus certain to be cut off from water communications by ice early in the season, the American regiment probably will be landed at the port of Ching Wang Tao, which is said to be largely ice-free.

This port is located on the railroad which passes through Tien Tsin, and is about 250 miles from the Chinese capital. It is about 700 miles southeast of Jehol, which probably will be chosen as a rendezvous by the Chinese emperor and family in case the dynasty is overthrown.

TRANSPORT READY. The transport Sherman is now lying in Manila harbor, having been detained there at the suggestion of the State Department. She could land a regiment in China within 48 hours after she received sailing orders.

Rear-Admiral Murdock, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, has transferred his flag from the Rainbow to the Albany, which is a smaller vessel, and has changed his base from Shanghai to Nanking.

As the Rainbow draws 16 feet of water, and the Albany only 16 ft. it is believed the change was made to enable the commander-in-chief to proceed up the Yangtze river near the troubles in the interior.

REIGN OF TERROR PREVAILS IN NANKING. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SHANGHAI, Nov. 15.—A veritable reign of terror prevails in Nanking, according to late dispatches from that city, under the dominance of Gen. Chang Jen Chun, the Viceroy, who has exacted tribute from the winds. A systematic search is being made for Chinese who have discarded their queues, and all found are beheaded.

The revolutionists in Shanghai are making vigorous preparations to attack Nanking, and at a meeting last night volunteers were called upon to undertake the liberation of China.

Dr. Gilbert Field, a prominent missionary, visited Viceroy Chang yesterday and endeavored to induce the general to agree to an armistice.

Gen. Chang refused to entertain the idea and declared he intended to lead his troops in the recapture of Chin Kiang, Foo Chow and Shanghai, for the throne.

Dr. Field says Chang's blood is up; that he is fired by his successes, and the number of those he has beheaded. He boasts that he has 20,000 devoted soldiers and holds Nanking in the palm of his hand. It is admitted that Chang is a man of great courage and military ability. He has abundant money and ammunition and has sown the city with mines.

HEAR NANKING FALLS INTO HANDS OF REBELS. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—A Hongkong cable to the Chinese daily paper here today says that Nanking has been captured by the revolutionists.

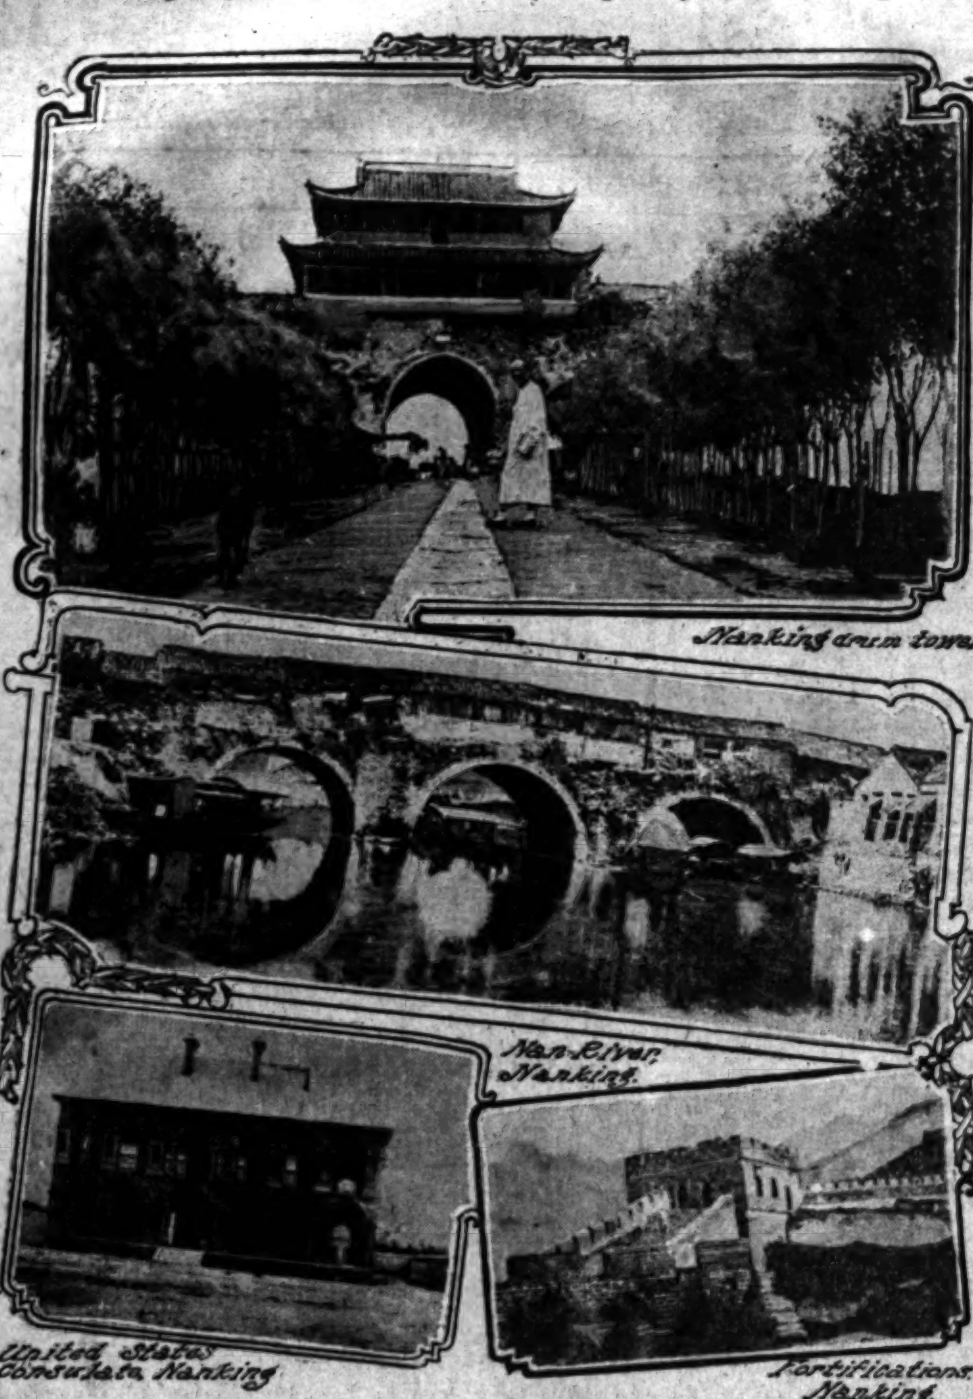

Commander Li Yuan Heng, according to the advice, has telegraphed Canton, for an army to join his forces for an attack on Peking.

Foreign guards, the dispatch said, had been withdrawn from Canton.

Revolutionary leaders in China will not consider any overtures for peace unless the Manchu dynasty agrees to abdicate completely, according to a Shanghai cable today, to the Chinese Free Press.

A personal representative of the rebel general, on his arrival in Shanghai yesterday, is said to have given the following statement:

Reign of Terror Prevails in Big City of Nanking.

Scenes at Nanking Where Viceroy Scorns Thought of Peace and has started a reign of terror by beheading queueless Chinese. Gen. Chang, the Viceroy, a man of great courage and ability, declares he will lead his troops to recapture cities won by rebels.

ANARCHY IN TORREON.

received by Dr. R. D. Robinson, who formerly lived in Torreon. The message was from an American business man and he urged the United States government to take some action which would prevent any demonstration against the foreigners and especially the Americans. Another message, similar to the Chinese slaughter, in which 200 orientals were killed, is feared as the same gang of so-called Maderistas are in control in Torreon who murdered the Chinese residents in cold blood.

With the removal of troops from that district the rioters have taken possession of the town and surrounding factory district and are parading the streets and threatening all Americans with death if they do not leave the district.

SPURRED TO ACTION. The strikers are urged to action because of the promises which the agitators claim were made to them that the high-priced American officials of the different companies would be replaced with natives, and the Americans forced to leave the country.

An even more serious aspect was put upon the situation in Torreon, when a message was received by the First National Bank here. The message was from one of the leading banks of Torreon and urged the El Paso bank to get into communication with the officials in Washington and notify them of the critical condition of affairs in Torreon and the Laguna district surrounding it. Americans here have been notified not to leave for Torreon until the trouble was over and Dr. Jamison, who had planned to send his wife to Torreon to visit her parents, was notified to delay her departure indefinitely, as it was considered unsafe for Americans, and especially American women in Torreon.

HOTBED OF ANARCHY. Since the outbreak of the revolution Torreon has been considered the hotbed of anarchy and of outlaws. The revolutionists in that section of the republic were nothing more than bandits operating under the banner of Madero. They pillaged the towns, looted the houses and assaulted the women. The climax of their operations came when they murdered the Chinese men, women and children, after they had hidden in their houses and refused to take any part in the defense of the city from the revolutionists.

CHIEF OF THE RURALES FEARS FOR THE WORST. [BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] EL PASO (Tex.), Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Col. Emilio Kosterlitzky, commander-in-chief of the Mexican rurales forces in the State of Sonora, arrived here this morning from Mexico City, where he had been in conference with President Madero regarding the situation in Northwestern Mexico. Col. Kosterlitzky is returning to his station at Magdalena, Sonora, where he will resume command of the rurales and will prevent any spread of trouble which is reported in that section.

Col. Kosterlitzky is a Polish nobleman, who came to Mexico many years ago and joined the Mexican army. He was promoted for his conduct in the Cananea riots of 1906 and is considered one of the ablest officers in the Mexican army.

Kosterlitzky, loyal to Madero, says he will give every ounce of his effort to pacifying the State of Sonora. He is not optimistic regarding the future of Mexico. He says the republic has been set back fifty years by the revolution and doubts if Madero will be able to handle the situation. He says the strike in Sonora is serious as the Mexicans cannot be allowed to strike for fear of their starting a revolutionary movement.

GENERAL STRIKE DECLARED. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] TORREON (Mex.), Nov. 15.—A general strike has been declared here. The bakers have joined and a bread famine is threatened. Five thousand workmen are idle, including a thousand smelter employees. The market place has been closed and the street cars are being operated. A thousand Federal soldiers are on their way from Monterrey.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] LAREDO (Tex.), Nov. 15.—Regarding the reported movement of Mexican troops between Monterrey and Laredo to forestall alleged insurrectionary activity, it was definitely ascertained today that fifty rurales have gone from Monterrey to Lampasas. Rurales have been transferred from Lampasas to Laredo, twenty miles south of Laredo. The Nuevo Laredo garrison has been augmented by seventy men.

AMERICANS KILLED. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] MEXICO CITY, Nov. 15.—Three Americans have been killed in Sonora as a result of an uprising of the Yaqui Indians, according to a letter received by El Imparcial, from Hermosillo. The Department of War yesterday shipped a large consignment of rifles and ammunition to the military authorities at Saltillo. A battery of machine guns was sent to Monterrey. The government denies there is any special significance.

ZAPATA'S BROTHER KILLED. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] CAUTLA (Mexico), Nov. 15.—Eugenio Zapata, brother of the rebel leader, was reported to have been killed in a battle near the hill of Aguarte, which began at 11 o'clock Monday night. It is believed the casualties were few.

VESEL IN DISTRESS. One of the Alaska Pacific Fleet Adrift with Broken Tail Shaft, But in No Danger. [BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Wireless messages received here and at San Jose, said that the steamer M. S. Plant, owned by the Alaska Pacific Steamship Company, is adrift with a broken tail shaft, off Point Arena.

"S. O. S." signals were sent out late tonight, but later messages received from the vessel brought the information that it was in no danger.

The M. S. Plant was bound from Seattle to San Francisco. It will be towed in by the steamer Rosecrans, bound south from Portland.

THE BURKE BOOM. FARGO (N. D.) Nov. 15.—An organization of North Dakota Democrats has been effected and clubs will be organized all over the State to secure the 1912 Vice-Presidential nomination for Governor John Burke.

A meeting will be held here January 17 and 18, at which Gov. Harman of Ohio, former Gov. Folk of Missouri, William Jennings Bryan, Gov. Morris of Montana and other prominent Democrats will speak. Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey will be unable to attend.

HEROIC DEEDS ON STORMY SEA.

Aged Woman Cheers Passengers and Crew.

Survivor of Slocum Disaster in Still Another.

Chief Engineer Risks Life to Save His Craft.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Little acts of heroism among the passengers and crew of the steamer Washington, when she went on Peacock Sp. Sunday afternoon, while bound for San Francisco, are recounted by passengers, who today returned to Portland. They say that among those who showed the most fortitude during the terrible time they were drifting toward what looked like certain death was Mrs. Fulmore, almost 70 years old. She made no complaint, but continually cheered and encouraged those about her.

SECOND DISASTER.
Edward J. Williams of New York, who was undergoing his second disaster, having been aboard the steamer General Slocum when she burned in New York harbor seven years ago, says that after the Washington was launched the officers and crew showed great heroism and he as well as others of the passengers lauded the conduct of Chief Engineer E. McKelvey, who, when a steam pipe burst at 11 o'clock Sunday night, driving the engine-room crew out, returned to see what he could do to repair the broken pipe, telling others he would call them as soon as it was safe.

TERMINAL SUSPENSE.
"It was a moment of terrible suspense while the tug was trying to get a line aboard," said Williams, "and when at about 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon the first attempt to get a heaving line aboard was made, both passengers and crew held their breath. The third attempt brought the line aboard amidships and Second Officer Hansen jumped down and picked it up. Then everyone lent a hand and got the hawser aboard." In speaking of his experience up to the time the steamer was in tow, which was practically that of all the others, Williams said:

"At 11 o'clock signal lights were burned, but it was not known whether they were seen or not. Capt. Winkel, Second Officer Hansen, Wallace Warren and myself went on the upper deck at the stern of the vessel and the captain, Mr. McKelvey, would strike on Sunday night. "We remained there until daylight when we caught a glimpse of North Head. The life-saving crew were wiggling, but there was no one among the crew who could read the signals. It finally developed that Harry S. Pangle, the 18-year-old son of Mr. Pangle, boarder for Los Angeles, who was a 'boy scout' and had learned wiggling, could read them. He climbed to the highest point he could reach and talked with the man ashore, receiving this message: 'Lay to till the 15th.'"

RAISE THE ANCHOR.
"At 9 o'clock in the morning, the captain had them get the steam up to the donkey so the anchor could be raised if worst came to the worst. "Early in the afternoon the captain told us he had decided if no help should come by 4 o'clock he would cast off the anchors and try to beach the boat in a narrow cove on the Sandy Beach. This would have been a desperate attempt, a thousand to one chance. "About that time we saw a tug approaching and our spirits went up, but he passed by without stopping. Tatoshek began towing us out to sea."

PROPOSED LAW CRITICIZED.
Public Service Corporations of State Present Their Objections Before State Railroad Commission.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Opposition to several provisions of the proposed public service law, which, if enacted, would greatly increase the scope and power of the State Railroad Commission, was voiced by representatives of a number of the public service corporations at the meeting held today before the commission.

The meeting was called by the commission for the purpose of learning the opinion of the corporations that would be affected by the law, and city or more representatives of the interests in question were present.

That provision of the proposed law providing that no foreign railway corporation may obtain a franchise in this State, came in for the strongest opposition. This provision is held to mean that any corporation desiring to build a railroad in this State must incorporate here and maintain a separate organization in this State.

The railroad representatives expressed the belief that while in this opinion the law would not be retroactive, nor require new organization of such lines as are now doing business in the State, it nevertheless would be "retroactive" for that reason they oppose it.

That clause in the proposed law which provides that public service corporations are subjected to restrictions imposed by the railroad commission when it comes to selling stocks and bonds also was criticized.

NOW WASHES
HIS OWN FEET.

Hun's Wife Learns a Few Things from California Suffragettes.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Her understanding of the rights of women broadened by residence in San Francisco, Mrs. Christina Seguyer refused to conform to an unwritten law of Hungary, her native land, and told her husband she would no longer wash his feet. This caused the husband, Lazar Seguyer, to berate his wife. Today she filed a petition for divorce. Mrs. Seguyer said in her complaint that ever since her marriage in 1901 it had been her custom to comply to the tenets of the unwritten law of her country, but that in August last she resolved to free herself from such thrallism.

State Industrial Insurance Commission from the record file in the plant of the Imperial Powder Company at Chehalis in which eight girls lost their lives.

The commission is considering the claims, but what amounts will be awarded the dependents has not been determined. The commission's investigation shows one girl was supporting an entire family and that a surprising number of people were dependent on the girl powder mill workers.

Under the industrial insurance law the dependents are entitled to an amount equal to the amount which would have been earned by the minors had they lived until they reached their majority. The awards will be paid by assessments levied against the powder companies having plants in this State. There are only three powder mills in Washington and the Dapout plant, which has by far the most extensive establishment, will be called upon to pay the largest assessment.

TO PROTECT CAPITAL.
Bankers Urge Adoption of a Bill to Secure Investments in Irrigation Bonds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
STOCKTON, Nov. 15.—That a bill having as its object the absolute protection of capital in the purchase of irrigation bonds, about the security of which there is at present some doubt, might be drafted for presentation to the Legislature, which will meet in extra session on November 27, became known at a conference held in this city today between the irrigationists and a delegation of San Francisco bankers.

The commission appointed by the Governor to inquire into the question, consisting of Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb, State Controller A. H. Ney, Senator Griffin and Assemblymen T. J. McLaughlin and E. H. McGowan, was urgent to benefit by any illumination that might be given the subject.

Assemblyman Griffin, elected chairman of the meeting, and almost immediately after organization, the issue was sharply drawn.

F. K. Litch, in behalf of the visiting bankers, presented a series of suggestions as embodied in a resolution recently passed at a meeting of the Commonwealth Club of California. Several of the irrigationists took issue with the bankers, and arguments both pro and con ensued.

PIPPIN GOES TO PRISON.
Former Paymaster of the Navy Taken to San Quentin to Serve Seven Years.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
VALLEJO (Cal.) Nov. 15.—Arthur M. Pippin, former naval paymaster, was taken on a tug from the receiving ship Independence to San Quentin prison today to begin a seven-year term for embezzlement and negligence in the discharge of his duties. A heavy marine guard commanded by Capt. Arthur J. O'Leary escorted the prisoner.

Since his trial by court-martial and the order from the Navy Department at Washington, sentencing him to the penitentiary, Pippin had been closely confined on the Independence.

It was stated here today that in the event the habeas corpus proceeding instituted for the release from San Quentin of former Paymaster Clerk James V. Fuller, sentenced to two years in connection with the Pippin case, proved successful, Fuller's attorneys probably would ask permission to appear before the department at Washington to argue the case.

INSIST AXTELL
WAS FINICKY.

DESCRIBED LIKE CHARACTER OF AN IPSIX PLAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Nov. 15.—Efforts to prove Editor R. Axtell, who is on trial for the murder of Charles Sellers, insane, took up the greater part of the afternoon session today. Among the witnesses who testified as to his peculiarities of late were two of his attorneys, Ex-Dist. Atty. George F. McNoble (testified he had been intimately acquainted with the accused twelve years and the past few months had wrought a great change in him, though for years he has been what the attorney called "finicky." Axtell was described as being nervous, fidgety, appeared in a stupor, cold, non-active and as a person chilled, often blanching and frequently absent-minded and oblivious of his surroundings.

Mrs. Axtell, wife of the accused, testified to conversations she had with her husband relative to Sellers and his alleged displaying in all of which he said Axtell was in a state of annoyance and greatly distressed her by reason of the mental condition he manifested whenever they talked about the stories circulated.

The defense is not through and there is a remote possibility the case may get to the jury this week. The prosecution still has rebuttal evidence to introduce.

CAMINO REAL TITLE.
Superior Court Holds That Abandoned Strip of Road Belongs To The Abutting Owners.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—By a decision handed down this morning by Superior Judge J. D. Murphy of Mono county, sitting for Superior Judge J. J. Van Nostrand, owners of property abutting what was the historic El Camino Real between this city and San Jose, retain their right to that half of the eighty-foot strip which once was a thoroughfare in front of the property in question. The action was brought against Romaine C. De Boon, heir to the estate of John De Boon, who in the early seventies deeded to the then territory the right of way for a road between the Mission Del Norte in this city and San Jose. The road was used for some years and then was abandoned, but in the meantime the property along the route was either laid off in city lots or cultivated as farm lands.

HEAR OF A CAPTURE.
PRISONER IN LOS ANGELES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WALLA WALLA (Wash.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Warden C. S. Reed of the State penitentiary has been notified of the capture of Percy Newton, a parolee prisoner from the State institution here, in Los Angeles, Monday. Newton, who was paroled on January 15, 1910, was employed in a local hotel for a time, but broke his parole by leaving the city on March 28, 1910. He received his sentence here for cashing a no-fund check, being sent up from this county. Whether or not he will be returned at present is uncertain, as the California authorities claim to have a case of burglary against him. Newton is 25 years of age, and an Englishman by birth.

This Thousand Dollars Is Still Waiting to be "Picked Up"—

Didn't somebody once say, "Opportunity knocks only once in a lifetime"? Somebody was wrong—absolutely wrong. A chance to earn a thousand dollars in hard, cold cash—a chance to earn it in ten minutes' time. Wouldn't you call that Opportunity with a big O?

This opportunity has been continuously knocking at your door and every one's door for five years past. And no one has taken away this particular thousand yet.

MELVILLE CLARK'S APOLLO
Player Piano

The Melville Clark Piano Co., manufacturers of the Apollo Player Piano, has for five years offered one thousand dollars in cash—real gold—to any one—absolutely any one—who will produce a player piano that will do musically what the Apollo does.

This proposition is still open. Chances are it will be for years to come, for it is based on the fact that the performance of the Apollo Player Piano can not be in our snowflakes. From the first time you hear it, you have your satisfaction. And, after all is said and done, isn't that the one big feature you're looking for in a player piano—human playing—natural music?

You'll bless your bump of curiosity if it brings be duplicated by any other instrument on the market. The fact that this Apollo Piano, after one year's use, is still "waiting to be picked up" freely and positively demonstrates that the Apollo Player Piano is distinctly in a class by itself.

You, or even a professional musician, cannot distinguish the playing of the Apollo from that of a human being. You may try the test any day you say.

Don't stay away because you have an old player or player piano on your hands. Don't stay away because you don't want to spend the money. We make a proposition as attractive here that you just can't afford not to buy.

Free by mail—
Send your name. We'll send this book. You'll find out how to become a pianist, a business owner, or a successful salesman either. Read for this book is the most best thing to hearing the Apollo piano.

Your old piano or player piano has a cash value as part purchase price on an Apollo. If you don't feel like "paying it all at once" we'll make terms so easy you won't feel the money go.

OCTOGENARIAN SPOUSE IS HELD.

Suspected of Killing Wife in Oconomowoc, Wis.

Woman of Eighty-five Is Found Dead in Bed.

Crime Thought to Have Been Done With Hammer.

OCONOMOWOC (Wis.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. August Hoge, aged 85, was found dead at her home, west of this city, and is supposed to have been murdered. Since there was a dent in her forehead and her nose was broken and badly skinned, although no blood was found on her face, the authorities believe the crime was committed probably with a hammer.

The husband, aged 59, is being held on suspicion. He discovered the body and notified the neighbors, who, in turn, called a physician. The latter notified the coroner and sheriff, who are making an investigation.

BRAIN CONCUSSION.
At the autopsy it was found death was due to concussion of the brain, due to a blow on the forehead. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

The old couple lived alone in the little house at the end of the city, where there is a district of small farms. They were not known to have quarreled, and it was common reports that they lived peacefully. Sheriff Bent of Waukesha arrested Hoge on the theory that the woman had been cruelly murdered, and because the story told by the old man was inconsistent, and failed to accord with known facts.

DENIES HIS GUILT.
The aged suspect sternly denies his guilt. He has spent practically all his long life in this country, but like his murdered wife, never acquired a speaking knowledge of the English language. He talked freely tonight in his cell at the jail.
"I did not do it," he insisted. "We went to bed as usual about 8 o'clock last night. She went to her bed in one of the sleeping rooms, and I went to the other bedroom, where I always slept. This morning I found her there in her bed, all covered up like she was just sleeping."

SHOOTING HIS WAY OUT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The police of a criminal career of three years, culminating in the murder on March 31, 1910, of Miss Martha Blackstone, a school teacher here, was introduced today in the trial of Spencer. Police Captain Boyle testified that Spencer said he believed himself surrounded while in the Dow home, where Miss Blackstone was slain, and, thinking the only way he could escape was to shoot his way out, he took that course.

FORMER LOS ANGELES TEACHER ARRESTED.

Buffalo, N. Y. Police Take Her and the Man She Wedded in Southern California from the Blind Baggage of a Fast Train—Almost Frozen to Death.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Beating her way in man's clothing across the continent from Los Angeles, Cal., in an attempt to make New York for love of the man who married in the western city four months ago, led to the arrest of pretty Christine McWilliams, 26 years old, who up to the time of her arrest, taught school in Los Angeles, according to a story told here in Police Court today.

Costed with Joe and exhausted she and her husband, "Case" McWilliams, 28 years, were hauled from the "blind baggage" of a fast Lake Shore express as it pulled into the yards last night. It was not until the pair had been turned over to the police that it was learned the smaller of the two tramps, who at first seemed no more than a boy, is a woman.

Arraigned in Police Court on the charge of vagrancy she told the story of the sufferings endured on the journey. Starting from Los Angeles after the husband had failed to procure employment, they said they made for Kansas City, riding to that city on the "deck" of a Pullman car. From there they went to St. Louis and then to Chicago. From there they started for Buffalo.

McWilliams and his wife endured more on the last jump than on all the rest of the trip. The temperature was close to zero and both were near death from freezing when taken from their perilous positions by Buffalo trainmen.

Hearing the details the judge decided the girl should be put in charge of the Salvation Army for the present. McWilliams has found a job in this city. The girl wife, ill because of her terrible experience, says she wants to get back to Los Angeles.

NO PRIZES FOR AMERICANS.
Their Art Works not Even Considered by Italy Because Insurance Was Allowed to Lapse.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ROME, Nov. 15.—The grand jury at the International Art Exposition, to which is entrusted the final award of prizes, decided today to grant prizes for paintings and sculptures, eight grand prizes for works in black and white and many second prizes. Four of the eleven jurors are Americans.

The American artists were deprived of recognition because they were excluded from the competition by the closing of the American pavilion when the insurance was permitted to lapse on October 31.

It is agreed that if the American works had been judged John Singer Sargent would have received a grand prize, while the black and white exhibits of Jessie Wilson Smith, Elizabeth Shippen Green and Jules Guerin and the McGlaughen and Webster exhibits of etchings were the best shown.

PAPERS ARE NEEDED.

Man Lost in English Channel Had Important Aviation Proofs With Him.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PARIS, Nov. 15.—Edward W. Mix, the American consulting engineer and aeronaut, who is supposed purposefully to have dropped overboard from a small boat going from Dover to Calais Sunday night, carried at the time the papers presenting the American side in the case of the Statue of Liberty flight. Officers of the Aero Club of America have asked asking that they be obtained from Mr. Mix's effects and given to the club's secretary, now going to Paris.

The prize for the Statue of Liberty flight was first awarded to John B. Moisant, who later was killed, and then to Count de Lesseps. Claude Grahame-White appealed and the International Aeronautic Federation was to have heard the case November 25.

Mix's disappearance continues a mystery.

THINKS BABIES TOO NUMEROUS.

SEVEN OR EIGHT NO BLESSING SAYS JACOB.

Infant Mortality in the United States Causes an Annual Economic Loss of Two Hundred Million Dollars According to Calculations of New Yorker.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "There ought not to be so many babies," said Dr. Abraham Jacob, speaking at the annual meeting of St. John's Guild in the Republic Theater, today.

"I think the families are too large," he continued. "I do not believe you are much impressed with the valiant efforts of the man who wants the families to be blessed (or perhaps not blessed) with six or seven, or eight babies."

Dr. Jacob estimated the infant mortality in the United States represented an annual economic loss of $200,000,000, to say nothing of the distress. But he said that only about half as many infants die nowadays out of every hundred, as died fifty years ago. He thinks the high mortality rate which still obtains can be further reduced by such agencies as St. John's Guild. He says 25 per cent. of babies die before they are 5 years old, chiefly from intestinal diseases.

BEEF TRUST PROSECUTION SAID TO BE COLLAPSING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Action of the United States government to dissolve the alleged beef trust organized by Chicago meat packers and prosecute the promoters for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act is tottering, according to assertions of the nine indicted packers.

By means of an unexpected flank movement late yesterday counsel for the defendant packers, with the exception of J. Ogden Arnold, who is on his way home from Europe, got a release of the defendants on writs of habeas corpus issued by Judge Kohlmast in the United States Circuit Court.

The arguments on the writ will be heard by Judge Kohlmast tomorrow and the defendants declare if he sustains the habeas corpus petitions the case must packers and prosecute the promoters will go free. In any event, they assert, and this is admitted by James W. Wilkerson, United States District Attorney, the trial of the packers, which was set for next Monday, will be delayed.

Mr. Wilkerson declares the counsel are guilty of underhanded action in not giving him due notice of their move for habeas corpus writ and attorneys for the defendants retort that their application was ex-parte.

Quit Coffee and Tea.

What the Great German Specialist Says. It disappoints some people to be told that coffee and tea cause disease. But it is best to look squarely at facts and set the face towards health for that's more fun than anything else anyhow. A Cincinnati man consulted a Berlin physician on nervous diseases and says:

"Four years ago I was an habitual coffee drinker having used it for 25 years and being naturally of a nervous temperament, I became almost a nervous wreck, greatly suffering from insomnia, almost constantly constipated and weighing only 125 pounds."

"I consulted physicians and took medicine all the time, but had no relief. About three and a half years ago I went abroad and while in Berlin heard frequently of a great physician, Prof. Mendel, an authority on nervous trouble, so I resolved to consult him."

"Prof. Mendel surprised me very much by asking at once if I was a coffee drinker and on my telling him I used it two or three times a day he said: 'It is poison.' After carefully examining me he told me there was nothing the matter with me whatever that could be entirely cured in 30 days by letting coffee and other stimulants alone and dieting."

"I had a hard time following his advice. I did not know what to do until I came home and told my wife, who got some Postum. We tried it, but at first did not like it; then we went over the directions on the package together and found we had not boiled it long enough."

"That was the beginning of the end of my trouble, for the Postum was delicious after that and I drank it regularly and it helped from the start."

"In a very short time I began to feel much better and in the last three years I haven't been absent from business one hour on account of ill health, for my health is fine now. I have a good appetite, sleep well and weigh 175 pounds."

Any nervous person who drinks coffee or tea will feel better from a 10 days' change to Postum. Trial easily proves this.

RECOVERS IMAGE OF VIRGIN MARY.

SAYS STOLEN BY MEXICAN, A PRETENDED PRIEST.

Mother Treasures It Because She Said It Illuminated Each Year on the Anniversary of Her Child's Death—Successful Termination of Search.

A plaster-of-paris image of the Virgin Mary, which, it is asserted, became famous about midnight of each May 15, the anniversary of the death of the little girl to whom it belonged, lead to the downfall of a distinguished-looking Mexican, who had been posing as a priest, under the name of Father Alphonso Espenosa.

A broken-hearted mother's insatiable desire to regain possession of that wall adornment at which her little child told her beads and for years offered up her silent supplications each morning and night, and upon which her eyes rested when she was finally called to him to whom she had long worshipped, led to the man's arrest.

When she missed the image and the other articles which the alleged priest took, the mother, Mrs. Carlota Tala, of Los Nietos, began a systematic search for the man, and after days of trudging up and down the streets of Los Angeles, following up first one clue and then another, found where he lived. But before she could get out to his house, she saw the alleged priest on the street, pointed him out to an officer, and him lodged in the County Jail, and then went to Assistant Prosecutor Shannon for a complaint, which she got. Through an interpreter she told Shannon this story:

"This man, who said he was Father Alphonso Espenosa, came to my house a little more than a month ago. He said he was a priest. He wore some of the priestly garments, including the robe and the collar. He always admired the image of the Virgin Mary which hung on the wall. I told him its history. It belonged to my little girl, Carlota. She died on May 15, two years ago. May her soul rest in peace," whispered the mother, as she crossed herself, and lifted her eyes heavenward. Drying her eyes, the woman continued:

"At midnight on every May 15 since then the image lights up. They tell me it is because my little Carlota has come back to see her mamma."

"This man admired this image. A few days ago I went to San Fernando to see a sick girl of mine. Papa went with me. When we came back, the image was gone. Oh, God! how I cried and prayed for its return. The house was gone, so was the buggy which I was buying on installment, also a revolver, a blanket and a whip."

"I told others. I found that the man went to Los Angeles. I came here. I learned from a little boy that the man had my girl's image at his house, and this afternoon was going to hold ceremonies over it. I got the address and went about to go out to the house when I saw the man riding along the street on a horse."

Mrs. Tala went on to explain that Oklahoma's Peculiar Banking Law Is Invoked Against a Bank at Phoenix, Ariz.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State of Oklahoma today entered suit in Phoenix for $10,000 against F. S. and J. B. Westfall, respectively president and cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of this city. A second suit by the same plaintiff is against Mrs. F. S. Westfall on a note for $1000.

The suits refer back to the failure last December in Sapulpa, Okla., of the Creek Bank and Trust Company, in which the Westfall brothers were controlling officers. Their local venture was established only a few months ago. It is told that the failure of the Creek bank cost the State of Oklahoma about $10,000, of which it is hoped to collect a part.

The Westfalls are said to have hypothecated $10,000 of the Creek bank stock with the Southwest National Bank of Kansas City as security for a loan of $10,000. Under the peculiar banking laws of Oklahoma, that State was forced to redeem the stock, paying therefor the amount advanced by the Kansas City Bank. According to a late bank examiner's statement, the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Phoenix has deposits of about $22,000 and liabilities and assets balanced at $23,246.

DENIES THE "ALLIGATOR."

Rodgers' Real Manager Says His Prodigy Has No Broken Bones and Will Not Fly Tuesday.

Uncensored war news escaped from Rodgers' aviation camp at Pasadena yesterday, and the powers that be entered a vigorous denial of the allegations contained therein last night. In the first place Rodgers has no broken bones, says Lawrence Peters, the real manager of the aviator. Nor will the aviator endeavor to finish his flight to Long Beach next Tuesday from the field near Compton in which he fell.

Absolutely no plans have been made, asserts Peters, who charges that yesterday's reports as issued by one Sanger, claiming to have authority were incorrect and unauthorized. Rodgers will be permitted to rest until he is well and not before his condition shows promise of being on the mend will business be talked of.

Rodgers rested rather well yesterday. His most serious injuries are sprained ankles which contain no broken bones. The general concussion is passing away, but the aviator still requires absolute rest and careful attention.

CASTORIA

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

B. J. Briggs & Co., of Providence, R. I., say: "We have sold Fletcher's Castoria in our three stores for the past twenty years and consider it one of the best preparations on the market."

R. W. Stucky, of Indianapolis, Ind., says: "To say that we have recommended and sold your Castoria for years is the best endorsement we can possibly give any preparation. It is surely full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

Henry R. Gray, of Montreal, Que., says: "I would say that your Castoria for children is in large demand and that it gives general satisfaction. Not being a secret nostrum many medical men order it when circumstances indicate the use of such a preparation."

W. G. Marshall, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "We have found your Castoria to be not only one of the best sellers in the medicine market, but a preparation that gives almost universal satisfaction; in fact we cannot recall having had a single complaint from any of our customers who have used it."

Owens & Minor Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "It is with pleasure that we find our endorsement to Castoria, a preparation of proven merit. During our long experience in the drug business we have had abundant occasion to note the popularity of the genuine Fletcher's Castoria, which we unhesitatingly recommend."

Brunson & Anthony of Atlanta, Ga., say: "No doubt if we were called upon to state positively what medicine we had sold for the greatest length of time, the greatest number of bottles sold, and the most satisfactory preparation to us and also to the customer, we feel that we could safely and conscientiously say Fletcher's Castoria."

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE A HORSE.Boy Is Dragged Unconscious from Burning Barn.Crown City Population Is Growing Rapidly.Rules Issued Governing the Tournament of Roses.

Pasadena, Nov. 15.—The destruction by fire of the stable at the George Juniper Republic at Chino yester-day afternoon caused the greatest excitement ever seen in the peaceful little community.The flames broke out while the directors and officials of the Republic were inspecting new buildings, a quarter of a mile distant. By the time the fire department had got into action the flames had gained such headway that no attempt was made to check them. All efforts were cen-tered on saving the livestock, each item of which is a prized pet of the boys. Apparently only a dove perished in the flames. Chickens, pigs and other barnyard inhabitants were car-ried to safety by the boys.

So anxious was Milton Goetz, one of the boys who belongs to the re-public fire department, to save the life of a horse which he believed still to be inside the barn, that he and others rushed through the door, dis-pite the protests of older persons.
The boys soon emerged nearly over-come from the smoke, but Goetz was nowhere to be found. Later he was dragged unconscious from beneath a collapsed wall of the building. Late last night he was none the worse for his experience.The cause of the fire is unknown.
Supt. Gerald Waterhouse of Pasadena and Myron Hunt of Los Angeles, who designed the new buildings, were present, and it was due largely to their coolness and direction that none of the boys was burned.GROWING FAST.
Albert G. Thurston, compiler of the 1912 city directory, which is now on the press, has estimated the popula-tion of the city to be 45,000 in the winter, and 55,000 in summer. He bases these figures upon a census tak-en as the canvas for the directory was made.
"I believe these to be approximately right," he said last night. "They may vary a few hundred one way or the other, but they are as near as any obtainable."Some other interesting facts that have been brought to light in connection with getting out the directory are that mail is delivered to 19,250 dif-ferent places in the city, that more new business houses and offices were opened in the last twelve months than has ever been the case in any like period, that there are in the city counting hotels, boarding and rooming houses, accommodations for 15,000 visitors, and that of the children there are over 10,000 attending grammar and high schools and 17,000 under school age. The new directory is to be ready for distribution shortly.

The canvass shows that many new residences are in course of construction, while there are few vacant dwell-ings in the city.
MULE CORRAL.
A mule corral at the city farm may take the place of the pigsty, which will have to be discontinued after May 1, if the new county ordinance is enforced. The subject is now under consideration by Mayor Thum and other city officials.

The hogs at the farm will have to be kept until an incinerator is con-structed. The city officials hope to secure an extension of time, if necessary, in which to complete the new arrangement.

Several hundred additional sacks of walnuts that were not harvested with the general crop, have just been shipped from the farm. It is estimated that the city will derive about $10,000 from the sale of walnuts this year, as against $5,000 last year.HURT IN COLLISION.

M. D. Schilling of No. 425 North Fair Oaks avenue, was taken to the Pasadena Hospital yesterday, as the result of a collision. Early in the afternoon he was struck by an auto-mobile driven by William Dodge, who lives at No. 1411 North Fair Oaks avenue, and knocked down on South Fair Oaks avenue, near Colo-rado street. He was bruised about the head and neck, and his leg was broken. He was taken to the hos-pital, where he is now being treated.
The automobile was damaged.CITY BRIEFS.
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Reavis of No.
1102 South Fair Oaks avenue, re-turned home yesterday, after a trip around the world. They started September 12, 1910. Since then they have traveled through every continent on the globe and made, perhaps, one of the most thorough trips of any one who has gone abroad from this part of the country. They passed considerable time in China.The home of Mrs. J. D. Reavis, a burglar, at No. 1237 Forest avenue, was destroyed by fire yesterday morn-ing, due to the explosion of an oil stove. The damage is covered by in-surance. The loss to the contents was $700.The condition of Aviator Calbraith P. Rodgers continued to improve yesterday. Several parts for the new aeroplane in which he is to conclude his flight have arrived.

The Shakespeare Club will be represented by a large delegation at the Joseph Stacey.Col. William J. Horan, president of the Pasadena Driving Club, has returned from the East, where he passed the summer. The tournament of roses association yesterday issued rules that willgovern the contest for Queen of the Tournament. There are twelve clauses. The chief stipulation is that candidates must have been bona fide residents of Pasadena for at least six months prior to the opening of the contest. Of the three candidates now in the race Miss Elizabeth Sherer is still in the lead.

Churches. Pasadena has arranged for two union Thanksgiving

Glendale Officials Dicker With Company and Plan to Provide for Annexed District—Quiet Wedding.

GLENDALE, Nov. 15.—The Glendale Board of Trustees and the Glendale lighting department have about completed negotiations with the Glendale Light and Power Company for the taking over of the plant and lines of the company in the West Glendale section, which was recently annexed to Glendale, as soon as bonds have been issued to cover the amount.

It is the intention to cover the ter-ritory with an adequate distribution system and to light the streets with the same system now in use in Glen-dale. Poles will be placed almost entirely in alleys.
As there have been no protests to the proposed ornamental street lighting proposition, work will start at once. The amended plan calls for about 140 standards of five lights each, to be erected on Fourth street, between Central avenue and Everett street; on Grand boulevard, between Third and Sixth streets, and on Glen-dale avenue, between Third and Fifth streets.
MUNICIPAL PLANT.
The Glendale municipal electric lighting plant has been one year in existence. The plant cost $14,000 and is valued at about $100,000. The city's equity is $45,000. The operat-ing receipts for the year were more than $19,500. The cost of operating and maintenance of plant and inter-est on bonds amounting to $14,100.
The bonded indebtedness has been re-duced $500, and more than $5000 worth of new lines and connections were installed.FINDS FRIEND ON LONG BEACH, Nov. 14.—Responding to a hurry call that an aeroplane had fallen on Ferris road, near Wil-low street, this morning, and that the aviator was probably hurt, Chief Moyer found the bird man calmly smoking beside his machine. He dis-covered in him an old friend, Frank Stiles, who left Spencer county eight years ago, since which time the Chief had not heard of him.Stiles, who was uninjured, said he started from Dominguez aviation field this morning to fly to Long Beach and try out a new rotary en-gine, but on the way he felt his plane swerve, and knew some of the wires were working loose. He selected an easy landing place and alighted to make repairs. Later it was found that the engine was also working badly.Stiles has been studying aviation for some months, and recently flew from San Bernardino over Los Angeles to Dominguez.LEAGUE FORMED.

At a meeting of women of the city last night the Woman's Non-Partisan League was formed with a charter membership of more than 100. A per-manent organization was effected with the following officers: President, Mrs. Cora Morgan; vice-presidents,
Miss Fannie Bixby and Mrs. R. A.Enos; secretary, Miss Mabel Haultell; treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Sprague;
Executive Committee, Mrs. M. A.
English, Mrs. Fannie Lent, Mrs. Gun-

nham, Mrs. Naomi Tompkins; campaign manager, Mrs. Frances Campbell. Volunteers for precinct work were called for, and every woman present enlisted for the work, which is especially intended to elect Miss Mabel Taylor as Tax and License Col-lector. No other candidates on either ticket will be endorsed by the league.SUDDEN DEATH.

Otto Zander, aged 61 years, while dressing this morning to go to Los Angeles, was stricken with heart fail-ure and expired almost instantly. He had previously been in good health.
Zander was a native of Minnesota and came to Long Beach three years ago. He leaves a widow and three children.On December 5, there will be a poultry show in Long Beach for light poultry under the auspices of the local poultry association. A month later there will be another show for heavy stock. The exhibitions will be held in front of the city hall, at the corner of Third and Locust avenues.Leander Lodge, who was injured at Rivera yesterday when a Pacific Electric trolley ran over him, came home today and is under a physi-cian's care. He has a deep cut on his head and is badly bruised about the body.At a meeting of the Progressive League last night answers to several questions were received from all the candidates of the parties.
An attempt was started to commit the league to the charitable candidates, but the league decided to file all answers without action at present.

The Board of Education last night authorized the Committee on Building and Grounds to purchase ex-

South Pasadena, Pasadena and Al-

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 15.—A community meeting comprising South Pasadena, Pasadena and Alhambra will be held tomorrow evening in the City Hall under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The speakers from Pasadena will be W. W. O'Far-rell, chairman of the Board of Education; H. A. Bertineau, secretary of the Board of Trade, of Pasadena; from Alhambra, Senator Thompson; from Pasadena, Dr. Waring, secretary and J. J. Conard, publisher of the Alhambra Advocate. Each will present the problems of the community they live in, to see if a com-framed between the three cities on municipal questions.

LID SLIGHTLY RAISED.

Santa Monica Removes the Ban from Card Games in the Clear Stores—Lids Raised.SANTA MONICA, Nov. 15.—The lid which has been on Santa Monica dur-ing the past dozen years, has been lifted, and again it is permitted to play card games in the rear rooms adjoining cigar stores, but this play will not be for money, although the loser will be permitted to buy the cigars for the winner. During the past decade conversation has been the only diversion vouchsafed the fre-quenters of the smoke houses, and was the lot of the one who in an unguarded moment would even tackle the engrossing game of solitaire. But now it is all changed, and they are pitching trumps, frogging, soling, cutting, slaming, and even in-dulging in cribbage, and the reward of a smoke for the winner.
While this anti-card rule has been rigidly enforced, at a score or more places along the beach it has been permissible for women and children to openly gamble at the Japanese ping-pong games, while dozens of spin-ning wheels, with prizes, auctioned women's silk socks to boxes of candy, candy bars, monkeys, parrots, live chickens, ducks and geese have been openly auctioned.Bridge whist, parlor gambling has never been interrupted, and prizes are regularly offered at the women's high five and high seven, and card parties.
The men who like to shuffle the paste-boards are congratulating themselves upon the removal of the lid to this game, but the women who have been known here during recent years have suddenly come into popularity.WILL REBUILD TOWER.
Pleasure Device at Venice Wrecked
by Recent Storm Will Be Re-stored—News in Brief.
VENICE, Nov. 15.—The work of rebuilding the high tower on the pleasure pier will be undertaken with-out delay. This 100-foot tower was wrecked by the gale Saturday morning. It was being built for the purpose of providing the spiral dip features of the captive airship that is to be operated on the pier. The tower was approached by the airship when the wind knocked it down. This is to be one of the unique riding de-vices of the beach, the plan being to carry the passengers in the airship around the spirals of the elevator tower, and then the full length of the pier and back to the starting place.VENETIAN BRITERS.

REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 15.—Final preparations have about been made by the members of the Arion Club of this city for the first mu-sical to be given at the Arion auditorium Friday evening. The programme will include some of the best known talent in Southern California besides the local numbers.Among the professionals who will appear will be F. Theo Thomas of Los Angeles, pianist; R. Edinger, late of the Orpheum, and the Edinger musical trio and the De Colla duo.
Little Miss Joa Madelon Quinn, 14 years of age, will appear in several child and impersonation numbers.From the local field Miss Georgia Burke will render several whistling songs, and Miss Florence Bowman, the Arion Club orchestra and male quartet will play an important part in the programme.FISH COME IN.
An unexpected run of big fish took the local fishermen by surprise early this morning, and has kept the wharves lined with poles all day.More big yellowtail have been caught here during the day from the wharves than were caught during the recent run. Large corn-fed mackerel are also in abundance, and are biting good.CLAREMONT.
CLAREMONT, Nov. 15.—The ex-ecutive boards of the Woman's Home Missionary Union of Southern Cali-fornia and the southern branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Board of the Pacific met yesterday at the homes of Mrs. Martin Aber-nethy and Mrs. Helen G. Reinwick.
Luncheon was served at the Clare-mont Inn. Mrs. E. C. Norton and Mrs. Helen G. Reinwick were host-esses. Ralph Larkin, superintendent of Home Missions in Southern Cali-fornia and M. T. Tuttle, director of religious education in the First Con-gregational Church of Los Angeles, were among the visitors.REDONDO BEACH.
REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 15.—A committee has been appointed by the City Council to draw up an ordinance restricting speaking on the streets. It has become common with agitators that the Council has determined to abate the nuisance.

A lot has been leased by the Christian Church of this city, and a church will be erected, probably on Thank-it in one day. A large church will also be built by the Catholics. Rev.

James O'Callaghan of St. James Church, who recently returned from Ireland, will start plans soon.Any practical farmer that sees the Fresno Valley Tract can't help but realize what big

IN THREE YEARS from date of purchase.
5—$15 for every acre of one-year-old growing orchard WITHIN THREE YEARS from date of purchase.
6—$100, on the 1st of next July, for the best tilled and best kept farm on the tract.
You can thus receive a premium of $25 per acre and an additional premium of $100.
Should you sell your land in the meantime, the premium will pass to the new owner as fully as if he or she had been the original purchaser.
And remember: the prices, with water, are only $75 an acre up. You can't beat it.

Prof. James Lyon Fully Demonstrates the Wonderful Fertility of This Soil

Six months ago Professor Lyon planted ten acres of his fifteen-acre Van Nuys-Lankershim tract to peaches. Today the trees average from 6 feet to 9 feet in height, showing a growth of nearly a foot a month, and measuring 4 inches to 6 1/2 inches in circumference at the base—all absolutely without irrigation.

Between the trees pumpkins and melons were planted. Today, with no irrigation and no care whatever, the crop of mammoth pumpkins and melons is conservatively estimated at 200,000 pounds, assuring good profits while the fruit trees are reaching maturity.

big advance in value, its close proximity to the city assures.

Prof. Lyon says:
"A man can clear from $250 to $500 an acre by raising garden truck for the city market or for shipment. On an orchard we plan for a yearly income of $250 an acre net profit, after deducting the interest on the money invested.
On a ten-acre tract a man could clear $2500 a year. The expense is very small, as there is but little cultivation and no irrigation to do."

See this "close-in" property—judge for yourself the magnificent money-making opportunity it affords. Only 4 1/2 miles from the rapidly-growing city of Los Angeles.

men, see the hundreds of handsome homes—see the splendid young peach, apricot and walnut orchards, growing absolutely without irrigation.

vard to completion. Buy a country home, a small ranch or for investment—now.

Chang is in command with 15,000 troops. They are well armed and fairly trained. They are determined and desperate and are entrenched in positions which experts regard as impregnable.

Outside the city within fifteen miles the revolutionists are gathering. Their force now does not exceed 5000 men, of which 2000 are trained. The insurgents, however, are receiving a constant stream of recruits and large supplies of guns and ammunition. The men are raw, but are desperately in earnest. They seek vengeance for the recent massacres.

The republican navy now numbers seventeen vessels, which are well supplied with ammunition. The warships are proceeding up the river to Nanking. All communication by rail and telegraph is cut off beyond Chin Kiang.

Rear Admiral Murdock, aboard the United States cruiser Albany, is expected to reach Nanking this morning. On the river below Nanking vessels of all nations watch the preparations. All foreigners are safe, having left the city. The American Consul, William B. G. Smith, is aboard ship.

WOMEN CAST LARGE VOTE.

Help Swell Large Majority for Alexander.

Shrine Show Attendance Records Broken.

Big Street Parade Is the Feature Today.

It took the women to swell the big majority for Alexander at the Shrine Auditorium last night, in the largest straw vote yet taken. The total vote was Alexander, 1246; Harriman, 264. The women gave Alexander 725 votes and Harriman 168.

The men gave Alexander 521 and Harriman 164. The women were by far the most enthusiastic of the voters.

This was the first test made to ascertain how the women will vote. It was freely predicted by those in charge of the ballot boxes that the women would give Alexander about twice as many votes as the women.

The result, therefore, was naturally a big surprise.

On one side of the main entrance to the Shrine Auditorium was the box for the men; on the other was the women's box. Deputies in full dress attire escorted the members of each sex to their respective boxes.

It was during the night that the Shrine Auditorium was the scene of a household show, and all attendance records were shattered. More than 1000 persons attended between 6 and 10 o'clock. Among these present were 2000 members of Al Malaikah Temple.

The feature of the evening was the parade headed by the officers of the Shrine. It was a magnificent sight.

The exhibition parade, which will start from Ninth and Broadway at 2 o'clock this afternoon, will be the big feature of today's program.

Following is the complete formation: Mounted police, Mayor's car, Roosevelt car, containing Parade Committee, car containing members of Executive Committee of the Shrine.

The headquarters of the parade committee is at No. 721 South Broadway. The members of the committee are W. E. McLean, R. E. Herbert, C. J. Muller. Pennants for decorative purposes will be distributed at the headquarters.

Tonight will be Grand Army night at the Household Show.

HE KNOWS HIS MAN BY NOW.

Attorney Who Defended Client for Larceny May Prosecute Him on Similar Charge.

Whether he will now prosecute a man he defended but a few weeks ago, Attorney Frank Dominguez has not decided, but he said yesterday afternoon that he is leaning upon him differently than he did.

Charles P. Champagnery is held in the City Jail on a charge of larceny. He was arrested once before on a similar charge and Attorney Dominguez defended him and secured his release. He is charged this time with having stolen a suit of clothes from a wagon of the City Dye Works.

Dominguez went to the jail to see Champagnery yesterday, but called at the property clerk's office first to see the clothes, the man was charged with having stolen. The attorney opened the box and exclaimed: "That's my suit of clothes!"

Looking at the address on the cover the attorney read his own name and address.

FOR MEN OF "THE TIMES" WHO FELL AT THEIR POSTS OF DUTY.

Noble Monument to the Unforgotten Dead of This Journal Appropriately Dedicated Yesterday in Hollywood Cemetery.

THE NOBLE granite pile erected by the Times in memory of its martyred dead in becoming Hollywood Cemetery was dedicated yesterday afternoon with fitting ceremonies in the presence of many persons. Above the charred ashes of those who perished at their posts of duty on the awful morning of October 1, 1910, victims of conspiracy and dynamite, each well-beloved and well-remembered name was again recalled as Gen. Otis read the Roll of Honor from the bronze tablet fixed upon the enduring stone of California's eternal hills. A loving duty was gratefully performed; the torch of Memory was lighted to blaze forth upon the highways of Time till granite shall decay and bronze be crumbled to dust.

Besides the families and other relatives, the associates, friends and old companions whose fellow-tollers the martyred dead had been, there were present in the large assembly many men and women prominent in the life of Southern California.

warrior champion of the principle of industrial freedom.

The main tablet bears upon its face, substantially in full, the noble oration of our brother, present here, upon the unforgettable occasion of the funeral of the victims. The oration as it now appears upon the tablet is headed and has these verily words:

"SONS OF DUTY,"

From the thrilling discourse pronounced by Rev. Robert J. Burdette, of "Quincy," over the lifeless fragments of the victims, at Temple Auditorium in Los Angeles, October 8, 1910. Following which, on the same day, came the impressive ceremony of solemn interment in the cemetery grounds at Hollywood, witnessed by a great concourse, including wives, children, kinsmen, fellow-workers of the Times, associates, friends and countrymen.

nia, as well as many others whose names are less widely known, but whose sympathies are no less warm toward the everlasting principles in defense of which a sacrifice of twenty loyal lives went out into the beyond from the shock and flame of the now historic disaster. Eyes were wet with tears as the voices of the speakers struck upon the quiet soul, and as the sweet melody of tender song recalled the virtues and the heroism of the unforgotten dead.

THE FLAG AND FLOWERS.

Around the monument many floral tributes were placed. Upon the crag-like cap where sits enthroned the great bronze eagle—emblematic of Freedom—was spread the flag with its deathless folds of color. From a staff beside the speakers' stand the colors also hung. Above the entire memorable scene California's own tender sky was domed—blue and bright upon a sweet November day. The hills were robed in royal purple; across green, orchards and brown-mantled plains the broad campaign lay in the soft haze of autumn against the distant glow of the Sunset Sea. At times there floated softly upon the wings of the breeze the tenuous melody of the Memorial Bells from their chapel towers—chimes that were tender with another memory, and that spoke, as in a dream, a message from her who, passing on seven years before, is waiting on another shore the coming of the martyred dead. Withal, it seemed, indeed, as though the gentle spirits of the dead were hovering near to touch with their mystic presences the living springs of love and memory amid familiar scenes and among familiar faces.

ADDRESS OF GEN. OTIS.

THE MEMORIAL DESCRIBED.

In calling the assemblage to order at 2 o'clock, Gen. Otis said:

Friends and fellow-citizens: In the name of the Los Angeles Times, I express our obligations to you for your presence here upon this interesting, touching and unique occasion. I am not to deliver the oration, or any oration. That tender task will be performed by another, who is far more equal to it than I am. But before proceeding to the dedication proper, it is appropriate that a brief statement of the plan, purpose, design and construction of the monument now to be dedicated should be made by me in this presence, and so I now give the essential points.

This reverent memorial has been created by the owners of the Los Angeles Times in accordance with the determination reached very shortly after the great disaster of October 1, 1910. The owners felt that they could do no less than pay this tribute of respect to the honored dead who fell in the service of the Journal and the cause to which they were devoted, and which cause we shall continue to uphold.

The conception, ideas and sentiments entering into this unique and striking monument were conveyed by the builders to Messrs. Joseph Paley & Son of Los Angeles and Chicago, and by the design.

The ground base of the monument is 12x12 feet by 1 foot 7 inches. The base stone weighs approximately 22,000 pounds. Ten horses were used on the truck which hauled it eight miles to this spot.

The tablet die is flanked by two wing pieces, against which are placed two buttresses extending to the front of the base. This tablet die is surmounted by a rocky, crag-like mass of granite, as you see, and upon its high, projecting end, to the north-eastward, is perched a bronze eagle, couchant, with spread wings and piercing eye.

On the north end of the monument appears this legend:

Courage and Constancy, Duty and Devotion.

And on the south end:

In Life, "Hearts of Oak";
In Death We Salute You.

There will be an imposing figure from the ground to the top of the eagle, is fifteen feet.

The entire weight of the granite entering into the construction is about 32,000 pounds.

The figure of the "Angel of the Watch" is to be of Westerly (Rhode Island) granite. All the other granite in the monument is California granite from the Raymond quarries, and was cut in Los Angeles by the Raymond Stone Company, under the supervision of the designer and builders.

All the lines of the monument are, as you observe, essentially classic. The memorial was intended to be unique in conception and original in design, and to combine beauty with strength, massiveness and dignity. It will stand, possibly not so long as destroying Time shall endure, but surely as long as granite can defy decay.

The smaller of the two bronze tablets, the one on the west front (here) is the dedication tablet, and I will read the words to you, as you can.

TESTIMONY IS RELAYED.

Plaintiff Who Is Almost Deaf and Dumb Is Assisted by Clerk of Court, Stenographer and Bailiff.

Clerk Caltera, Stenographer Doyle and Bailiff Jeffries of Judge Houser's department of the Superior Court showed yesterday that it is not always the court that overcomes obstacles. It came about when R. Axelrod, suing for $12,600 damages for injuries he alleges he received by being struck by an auto owned by Patton & Longly, was found to be deaf.

"Hey?" queried Axelrod, after Caltera repeated the oath witnesses must take before testifying.

Caltera tried again, but with no more success. Then he shouted. Axelrod shook his head.

"Can't hear you," he said.

(Caltera, Doyle and Jeffries held a par-vow. An idea seemed to strike all three at the same time. It was to dash off the questions to the plaintiff on a typewriter. Judge Houser, Attorney Charles E. Burnell, for Axelrod, and Waterman and Green, for the defendant, promptly concurred.

Doyle got his machine and Caltera

SEVENTH FORTY CALLED TO BAR.

Three Hundred and Sixty-four Men Actually Examined.

Peremptories May Begin on Temporary Jurors Today.

Reopening Asked in Darrow Disbarment Proceedings.

Another venire has been summoned for this afternoon for duty in the McNamara case. This is the seventh since the trial began. The forty men to appear this afternoon will make the total summoned thus far, 344. Of this number must be deducted deceased persons whose names were in the county jury wheel, the aged and infirm, and persons entitled to be excused without examination at the hands of counsel. Only sixteen remained ready for duty out of the last forty, and the same ratio has been maintained in the previous venires.

The exercise of peremptory challenges was not reached yesterday owing to the excusing of T. J. Green, one of the jurors passed by both sides. His absence left two places. One was filled by the selection of A. C. Heath of Compton. J. A. Ross was under examination when court adjourned for the day. The defense challenged him once and asked the court's permission to ask the witness additional questions. The District Attorney will conclude the examination, if the defense is not satisfied. Peremptories will then begin.

Some time today arguments may be made, with the jury excluded, in reference to re-examining Willie Brunner, once passed by both sides. It now appears that, by some inadvertence, a portion of the witness' testimony was overlooked. Later, in going over the transcript, the District Attorney discovered some discrepancy in the answers of Brunner. He appeared to be in doubt whether he could convict upon circumstantial evidence in the case of this man. The state takes the ground that the mere temporary passing of a juror does not prohibit it from recalling him at any time before he is sworn in.

SEEK TO RE-EXAMINE

Capt. Fredericks furnished Judge Bordwell yesterday afternoon with points and authorities and the court will also ask the defense to cite its grounds for disallowing the re-examination of a juror. Even if the court decides against the defense, Brunner may be retained on the panel. While a locomotive engineer and a member of the brotherhood, he is believed to be unprejudiced, and without any special labor-union leanings.

J. H. Sexton, one of the jurors temporarily passed for cause, and probably slated for a seat on the final panel, was absent part of yesterday afternoon. His half-brother, Charles Sexton, is sick, and the juror was given permission to go and see him. It is possible that Sexton may be excused because of the illness of his relative, but nothing has been decided.

The race question was not allowed to enter the trial yesterday. A colored man on the sixth venire was excused by the court. The action was approved by both sides, and the venireman was also eager to escape possible embarrassment.

Prospects of filling the jury box for a second time went glimmering when Judge Bordwell allowed T. J. Green to go because of the latter's attack of inflammatory rheumatism. He was regarded as a good juror and it was with reluctance that the District Attorney saw him depart. From the physician's report, it was evident that Green's condition was one of sickness and not of mental distress. While the defense would doubtless

MERGER ON OF SECURITY AND EQUITABLE BANKS.

NEGOTIATIONS toward one of the biggest bank mergers ever made in Los Angeles are now under way, with a good prospect of early consummation. The proposition, which is now before the stockholders and directors of the institutions in interest, is the absorption of the Equitable Savings Bank, at First and Spring streets, by the Security Savings Bank.

The deal will involve an outlay of approximately $500,000 for the stock of the Equitable alone. It will be necessary, under the provisions of the new banking law passed by the last General Assembly, to secure the consent of the State Superintendent of Banks before the merger can finally take place.

President Sartori of the Security Savings Bank admitted yesterday afternoon that negotiations looking to the taking over of the Equitable Savings Bank by his institution are now under way. Further than that he would not discuss the subject. It is known, however, that the question of merging these well known banks has been submitted to the stockholders of the two concerns. If majority of the stockholders are favorable to the proposition, and the State Superintendent of Banks gives his consent to the merger, the deal will go through on the lines now laid out.

The details of the merger plan are not at this time available for publication, but will be worked out by the officials of both institutions if the stockholders approve the consolidation. The Security Savings and the Equitable Savings are among the oldest and most reliable banks of the city, the Security having the largest deposits and the greatest resources of any bank in this part of California. Its capital stock is $1,000,000, paid up; it has surplus and undivided profits of $1,000,000; its deposits are around $18,000,000 and its total resources are in excess of that sum. It pays dividends of 15 per cent. on the capital stock and the shares are now quoted at $294 each. J. F. Bartoli is president. W. D. Longyear is cashier, and the directors include some of the most prominent capitalists of Los Angeles.

The capital of the Equitable Savings Bank is $250,000, its deposits amount to nearly $3,000,000 and it has a surplus and undivided profits of $75,000. The present market price of Equitable stock is $195 a share, and the situation pays annual dividends of 5 per cent. W. J. Washburn is president of the Equitable, W. H. Booth is vice-president and Ralph E. Noble is cashier.

The merging of successful banking institutions in this city is a frequent occurrence. At this time it is alone the line of getting better results by reducing the number of banks. In recent months the Citizens National Bank has absorbed the Citizens Bank and Trust Company and the Farmers and Merchants Bank has taken over the United States National. The Globe Savings Bank and the Bank of Southern California have also merged to the entire satisfaction of the stockholders of each institution.

Special Session Not Asked to Take Up the Matter.

Proposition in Some Quarters to the Measure.

General News of Interest from Oil Fields.

Opposition from a number of oil men in Santa Barbara county is being waged on the part of the Coalinga operators are resolute, it is said, for the failure to take the coming special session of the Legislature consideration of a measure urged by many oil men of the county and elsewhere for the election of the oil strata from the water.

The Santa Barbara oil men, it appears, have an association of their own fighting the encroachments of water and are satisfied with the law it now stands. The plan followed by the Coalinga operators is to pay for the cementing which is necessary to be done by the association. All the oil corporations interested contribute equally, and the work is carried on without friction.

Some of the influential men of the Santa Barbara oil field are getting out of the game and therefore are not as much interested in matters of this sort. Another reason for the failure to take concerted action was the alleged opposition of the Associated Oil Company to a measure that would give the water commissioner power for the proposed new law to enter the lands of the company and shut off the water in a well without the permission of the company.

The Associated does not object. It is opposed to the proposed tax to defray the expense of the water commissioner's work, but the managers of the company's property believe they are capable of handling the water in their own wells without outside advice. All these reasons the attempt to action on the matter of protecting oil fields from the menace of water have been abandoned for the present season, and a committee of prominent oil men is now at work on a campaign to have the franchise of a satisfactory law the passage of which will be urged at the next session of the Legislature.

The greatest danger from water appears to be in the neighborhood of the unlicensed Lakeview gusher in the Midway-Maricopa field. During the last season the flow of this wonderful oil well thousands of barrels of water were forced to the surface daily by the gas pressure underneath. The cave-in that stopped the flow of oil also cut off the water, and now the operators in the field are afraid that any tinkering in the gusher volcano may start the water again. The operators have petitioned the Union Oil Company, in view of the Lakeview, to let it alone and the consequences prove costly.

MAY BEGIN DRILLING.

VISIT OF THE OFFICIALS.

It is believed in Bakersfield that a recent visit of President William Taft and other high officials of the oil industry to the oil fields of the county, including the Lost Hills field, will result in an order to begin a great campaign of drilling on the alternate sections held by the Union Oil Company.

It is said the Kern Trading and Oil Company officials have been consulting about taking up active drilling in the Lost Hills. The wonderful discovery already witnessed in this district is attracting the attention of men generally. Every other section in township 24-25, said to be the best in the county, is being drilled. The land of O. Scribner, former secretary of the Associated Oil Company, after a recent visit to the Lost Hills, said it would in time rival any field in the State.

News Notes and Personal.

C. Ross, secretary and treasurer of the Coalinga-Coalinga Oil Company, operating in the Coalinga field, left the other day for his home in Van Nuys. Ross had been in California several weeks looking over the various oil fields.

It is rumored that a new gas company will be formed to supply natural gas to the town of Maricopa at a much less rate than is now being charged.

The M. & M. Company, located on section 25 of the Maricopa field, bought in its No. 2 well last Wednesday and it is said to be doing 2000 barrels a day.

Joseph Murray, superintendent of the Elmer D. Lease, has returned to Maricopa after spending a few days in Oakland, where he was called on an important business for the company.

The Producers' Oil Company, a Fresno corporation operating on section 25, 26-27, Midway district, has declared another dividend, this time of 60 cents a share. The company owns valuable lands and gets big returns from leases and its own production.

The Kern county men who have been figuring on prospecting for oil in the Monterey county have given it up as a bad job. The wells investigated did not warrant any further expenditure of money.

Recently a dozen or more employees of the Sunset Monarch Oil Company enjoyed a hunting trip to the Carlsbad plains. They were after the elusive quail.

The Tejon Oil Company, a Kern county concern, has elected the following officers: President, H. L. Peacock; vice-president, J. W. Mahon; secretary, Leroy Peyton; directors, Charles Taylor, Ira Hochheimer and Joseph Radlick. The company is prospecting about 15,000 barrels a month. The Pollak Bros. of San Francisco are preparing to drill well No. 1 on section 26, 12-22, near the ex-gusher of the Consolidated Mine. The property is known as the Myroco Oil Company.

CONTEST FOR LAND.

Alonso E. Dodson, No. 312 Third street, San Diego, and Marvin W. Dodson of El Centro, are contesting the possession of 160 acres of land in the desert entry laws before Registrar Burton and Recorder Johnson in the local land office. The land is in Imperial county, near Blythe, west of El Centro. The record shows that the men filed on the land very day the plat was submitted for the re-survey. May 24, 1909, but Dodson claims that he settled on the land in 1891.

Settles Your Out-of-Order Stomach, and Ends All Indigestion in Five Minutes.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort and relieve the sorest acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, nausea, headache, biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one 50-cent case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Pape's Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during the night, cure your Stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

Some Churning.

WANTS BACK SIX TONS OF BUTTER.

MANY AND DEVIOUS ARE HIS WAYS TO GET IT.

Cremerman Man Admits Swearing False to Criminal Complaint Against Customer to Recover Value of His Wares—Defendant Promptly Let Go Since Action's Civil.

Six tons of butter, two complaints against the same man, each sworn to by the same individual, but in different counties, one charging the defendant with embezzling about three weeks ago, charging Whitefield with obtaining butter under false pretenses. That case was dismissed because the District Attorney said it was only an attempt to collect a debt, after the defendant had spent two weeks in jail. Then he was arrested on a first warrant.

On the witness stand Turri admitted that the complaint he swore to in San Luis Obispo county against Attorney Johnson then moved for the dismissal of his client, and the court granted the motion. Assistant Prosecutor Jones not objecting, coinciding with the court that Turri was using criminal proceedings to collect instead of by a civil action.

STAY UP ALL NIGHT.

Suit was filed in the United States Circuit Court yesterday by Louise Cherbonno and L. L. Cherbonno, her husband, against the Santa Fe Railway, for $2500 damages alleged to be due the wife, because of the act of an agent of the defendant corporation on June 8, 1910, Mrs. Cherbonno bought a ticket over the road from Bakersfield to Wasco, and alleged that at one place on the road the conductor informed her that the next stop would be her destination. She got out of the car, and the train departed, when she found that she had alighted at Shafter instead of Wasco, and was unable to retire for the night. The exposure made her sick, she alleges.

A GREAT ELECTION DAY.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—(To the Editor of The Times.) I heartily voice the sentiment and cheer in your issue of this date, to have proprietors of stores, shops and factories close their respective places of business on the day of the election, to the end that all employees may have an opportunity to work and vote in this the most important election which has ever confronted this community. This means not to open their places of business at 10 o'clock on the day of the election, but to devote one whole day to the election of George Alexander and the "Good Government" ticket.

THE SMITHS.
 With Hoke Smith going to the Senate from Georgia, and Arizona Republicans threatening to send Hoval A. Smith from Blaine, the chances are excellent for the Smith family to achieve some prominence in the country. We always suspected that the Smiths were nice people.

ONE'S NEEDS.
 There are two ways of buying things. One is to buy out of immediate necessity. Another is to buy because an attractive offer presents itself. If a man is in urgent need of an article and goes to look for it on the minute his purchase will be legitimate, but if he buys something simply because it is offered for sale he usually buys something he could do without, and this is the habit which keeps men poor. All economy, whether of time or strength or money, lies in dealing only with the immediate need. The doctrine of treating with essentials is the most vital gospel of life.

BLACKBIRDS.
 Every acacia and pepper tree branch in the suburbs of Los Angeles is quivering with audacious blackbirds. It is hard to convince these chattering sky folk that the present quality of sunlight is not of the mintage of spring. To live in the light with a song on the lips is a good thing for a man or a blackbird to do, and no doubt the blackbirds are surprised that so few men learn the lesson. To believe in the spring in winter time is to have a seasonable gladness in the heart, and this recipe for happiness the blackbird possesses until his blinding little body is the symbol of joy. California's mocking birds fill the Southland with song, but its blackbirds, with their gay chatter, offer carols of praise sweeter than twilight prayers.

WASTED TIME.
 We think the Texas cattleman who has gone East to trace his wife after her elopement with a rich bachelor is wasting his time. He doesn't want her again, nor does she want him. He can't make things as they were before. Neither can she. Nor can the bachelor. Whether it be his pride or his heart that hurt, they cannot be mended by violence. When things happen to us in this world all that can be done is to start the best possible new life on the ruins and the lessons of the old. Whoever we are and wherever we are, whether we look upon a world of gladness out of happy eyes or whether, through mists of tears, we gaze dimly upon a gray repelling world, the fact remains that life for us all begins anew each day, and that we are always building from the position of the present moment to the best that lies within our present vision.

A BILLION DOLLAR EXPORT.
 By the thirty-first day of next month our exports of manufactures, our best exports, will have reached a value of at least $1,000,000,000 gold, the largest value by far of such exports in all the years of our surprising industrial history. This great total is forecast by the Bureau of Statistics and is based on the completed records of the bureau for the nine months ended September 30. This confidently-expected total of $1,000,000,000 is more than twice that of ten years ago and more than five times that of twenty years ago. That is progress, and progress of the most substantial kind, for the country as a whole and for the American wage-producing factory in particular.

Among our $1,000,000,000 export of manufactures: $250,000,000, copper manufactures; $100,000,000, refined mineral oils; $100,000,000, wood manufactures; $40,000,000, agricultural implements; $40,000,000, cotton manufactures; $45,000,000, leather and its manufactures; $50,000,000, cars and carriages; $25,000,000, chemicals, etc.; $25,000,000, and automobiles, $15,000,000.

AN APPEAL TO REASON.
 Workers, union and non-union, are not your regular pay envelopes worth more to your wives and your little ones and yourselves than all the iridescent dreams of honest socialism and all the mouthings of office-seekers who are Socialists for revenue only? Can you buy a sack of flour, or a piece of beef, or a pound of sugar with one of Harriman's speeches? Will the store accept the editorials of a Socialist or can or a plank of the Socialist platform as pay for a wrap for the wife, or shoes for the little ones, or a pair of breeches for yourself?

"The man who provideth not for his own household is worse than the infidel," says the proverb. "A malignant and turbulent Turk" never allows his women and children to go hungry. Will you be justified in losing your home for lack of the money with which to meet the installment payments merely to materialize the dreams of dreamers or elevate to office men whose elevation will have the effect to deprive your household of the comforts and the modest luxuries to which it has been accustomed?

If there is any city on this continent that can show a greater growth as indicated by the increase in street cars operated in Los Angeles within the present week we have failed to notice it. The transportation companies are put to their trumps to accommodate the people. Twenty-four new trains have been placed on the interurban lines alone.

With the bull and bear both after Persia there is nothing but a tree left to that unhappy country.

THE REGISTRATION FRAUDS.
 It is notorious that the enemies of good government have padded the registration rolls with purposes of wholesale repealing and illegal voting on election day, December 6.

In the opinion of The Times, the committee having charge of the investigation and purification of the lists has before it THE MOST IMPORTANT AND VITAL WORK OF THE CAMPAIGN.

We must have an honest election, and we cannot have one unless these frauds are rooted out and the perpetrators are punished.

The time has come for the beginning and earnest prosecution of this work, and everybody should lend a hand. The loyal and tremendous efforts being made by earnest men and women to defeat the Socialist-Labor-Union combination will be in large measure nullified unless the purging of the register goes on with full head of steam—is prosecuted with all possible energy and efficacy.

The Times hopes that the best system will be adopted, and that neither men nor means will be lacking.

FALSE SOCIALIST CLAIMS.
 It is contended by Socialists that, with the growth of our present system of industry the struggle of the masses of the people grows more and more difficult, that the army of unemployed grows ever larger (no allowance being made for increasing population), that the rich are growing richer and the poor poorer, and, finally, that shortly we are in find society divided into two classes—on the one side the great mass of the people, propertyless, with nothing but their labor power, and on the other side a few great capitalist lords who monopolize all the means of production and distribution. These are the main contentions of the Socialists which figure in the struggle in Los Angeles today for Socialist control of our city.

How can they justify say of this country that the "great mass of the people are propertyless" when that "great mass" has nearly $5,000,000,000 in our savings banks and when, probably, 3,000,000 of our 7,500,000 factory workers own their homes?

Think of the thousands upon thousands of savings accounts in the savings banks of Los Angeles—one savings institution alone having 60,000 separate accounts and over $20,000,000 worth of resources. That is how these accounts stand today, but how they would stand ninety days after the Socialists should have got control of our city and its wage-producing industries should have become depressed, badly depressed (wages being the source of savings) is quite another question.

Think again of the thousands of comfortable homes owned by the working people of Los Angeles, all of which have been bought and fully or partly (mostly partly) paid for by their owners, male and female, out of wage savings. These homes are safe now, but how will they be during the four years of Socialist control of our city, should such a calamity come upon us, a calamity greater in its far-reaching than was the fire of 1904 to the people of San Francisco? There was many millions of insurance money back of that fire, but where would be the "insurance money" in Los Angeles back of the work and wages-destroying by credit-destroying advent of a Socialist city government?

That the Socialist propaganda is largely a mass of misrepresentation and exaggeration can be easily proved. Every evil is exaggerated (witness the Socialist mouthings now being held night after night in this city) every act of any anti-Socialist is misrepresented. Socialists tell us that one can ride on the municipally-owned street railways of Glasgow, Scotland, for a cent; but they purposely omit to add that one can ride only about half a mile for a penny, and that, if you ride the entire length of the line in that city, you will pay nine cents, or more than double the street railway rates in Boston and elsewhere. If distance is (as it properly should be) considered, that is just one sample of Socialist misrepresentation. Many more such samples can be adduced.

For those who have the real interests of Los Angeles at heart; who want to see our city continue its march of glorious prosperity; who want to eliminate class hatred and unreasoning prejudice; who want to see the regular weekly, well-filled pay envelope continue; who want to see the homes of the workers of Los Angeles retained by their owners; who want to see individual savings bank accounts continue to increase in number and amount; who want to see our schools continue to be filled with crowds of well-fed, well-clothed, happy children; who want to see the wives of our workers continue to receive the money weekly to pay the butcher, the baker and the grocer; who want to see our workers and their families still enjoy repeated days of rest and pleasure at our beach and other resorts, and so on; for those who want all these blessings and joys of life to continue with us, and that is, thinking of others as well as of ourselves, to vote on December 6 against Socialist credit and business-destroying socialism, Harriman and every name on the Socialist ticket. In no other way can the credit and business of Los Angeles, the wage-producing, profit-producing credit and business, be preserved.

SURGICAL POSSIBILITIES.

Vistas of infinite and almost incredible magnitude are opened up for the healing of the many ills that flesh is heir to by the extraordinary surgical operation lately reported from the Methodist Episcopal Hospital at Philadelphia. It is alleged that Dr. Hammond has just removed a diseased kidney from a patient and replaced it with a perfectly healthy one taken from the body of an unfortunate pedestrian killed by a speeding automobile. The operation, as technically described, included an anastomosis of blood vessels and a connecting of veins, arteries and other ducts and glands, but the crowning feature of the performance is the promised recovery of the patient.

Truly, every fresh achievement in this remarkable century reveals wonderful possibilities whose end the most daring prophet can hardly predict. Surgical science is advancing by leaps and bounds. We may safely conclude it will not stop at the transplanting of kidneys. Before long may we expect to see livers that have become abnormally enlarged by an excess of good living gently abstracted and replaced by liver of proper dimensions and in good working order?

Finally, this transplanting may be applied to the heart and brain. So when a genius dies his usefulness will not perish with him. His brain will simply be removed and inserted in the skull of his eldest son or youngest female relative (as directed in his will) and so his work will be carried on continuously through successive generations. Thus at last the poet will be made as well as born. The heart of a great soldier or champion prize fighter may similarly be made use of and so have a greater marketable value than the moving-picture rights of a battlefield or a prize ring. Philanthropic tendencies may be multiplied by this heart-to-heart surgery.

What the outcome of this perpetuation of genius may be it is impossible to forecast. With a plethora of massive brains and fighting hearts the last state of the world may be worse than the first. We may finally suffer from what the French call "un embarras de richesses." The Deus ex machina business may be carried too far.

For what, alas! will become of poetry and romance when an immortal body or an immortal deed of valor simply depends on buying a writer's brain or a fighter's heart at so much per square millimeter?

The wording and origin of the alleged interviews with New York bankers, favorable to socialism, published last Saturday by Socialist organs, left no doubt as to their falsity. The banking houses were made to say that the election of a Socialist government in Los Angeles would not affect the credit of the city. The interviews were raw fakes. Every one of the banking houses named has repudiated them.

THE CHINESE MAGNA CHARTA.

The young China party has drafted a list of constitutional rights for the new republic that makes the stiff Russian parchment look like a piece of flimsy cigarette paper and should cause the dry bones of King John to rattle under the stones of Westminster Abbey. Framed after thirty years of close study by laborious Chinese scholars, the new Magna Charta rings all the changes in the negative key.

No combinations, no class distinctions, no mergers, no socialism, no trusts, no anything that can be popularly prohibited is the burden of this new song of liberty. If it has been framed, as its sponsor asserts, with an eye to present conditions it certainly fills the bill. Yet it will fill, we fear, to satisfy all the reformers.

If the new Chinese republic wishes to be really up to date it should write its constitution with an eye to the future and not bother so much about the present. A thousand years hence combinations and trusts and class distinctions and socialism will have been swept into the dust-bin of things that have ceased to interest or to have any meaning. Let us suggest to awakening China how a constitution for the benefit of posterity ought to be drafted to cover future contingencies. Here are a few provisions.

No collection of aeroplanes over tenement districts. No landing from airships in downtown sections. No interception of the sun's rays for running solar engines in any manufacturing center where the power of the tides is available. No absorption of nitrogen from the atmosphere for soil fertilizing where the supply has already been depleted to less than 90 per cent. No manipulation of the clouds except by the official rain-maker. Here come the more serious prohibitions.

No shifting of located earthquakes from one county to another. No shipping of stored chain lightning except in tested tridium-steel box cars. No monopoly on the "through-the-center-of-the-earth" tube traffic between Peking and Los Angeles. No private interference with official Mars and Jupiter wireless Marconiographs. No prolonging of life beyond the 500-year limit, except on a certificate of proficiency from the Public Board of Education. No development of apes into human beings, except in sparsely-populated districts where the labor conditions require it.

No manufacture of protoplasm into animal life unless the price of meat warrants it. No application of ultra-violet rays or radio-activities to children under the age of 40. No calling back to earth of ancestral spirits without a government license. Ghostly advertisements not admissible as evidence in civil cases. No jockeying of respectable auras.

These are a few of the provisions that a really progressive republic should incorporate in its constitution, so as not to be considered old-fashioned before it has got fairly under way. Yet young China might well report to the drafting of such a constitution in the classic words of the famous Irish leader: "Why should we build to benefit posterity? What has posterity ever done for us?"

The greatest work before the anti-Socialist campaigners is the purging of the registration lists.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

It seems to me I'm always waiting for something in this world of woe; In June I'm waiting till there's skating, and lots of wholesome alet and snow. In winter I am sadly waiting until the summer comes once more, and wintry weather I'm berating until my trusty tongue is sore. When breakfast I don't wait for dinner, and think that I'll be happy then; and that meal o'er, I wait the dinner, to put my stomach right again. When I was young my youth I hated, and longed to be a full-grown man; I have the years for which I waited, and gladly I the same would eat. And so we wait till death immures us in long and silver-mounted crates. "He also serves," the bard assures us, "who only hangs around and waits."

WALT MASON.

QUAKER MEDITATIONS.

[Philadelphia Record:] The dead sure thing is often more dead than sure. Truth often takes the form of things we would rather not believe. Lots of people live and learn the things that are of no use to them. People who continually find fault seldom find time for anything else. A man makes a hit with a girl when he tells her how much he misses her. Tell your troubles, and your friends will see that you have plenty to tell. The young man who is looking for an opening might try the oyster business. If money talks it must be in silvery tones, for we are told that silence is golden. When the nervous man reaches the top he is apt to look around for the fire escapes.

Ladies Fair.

[Boston Transcript:] All blondes are not light-headed. Girls with liquid voices should be careful not to strain them. Some women are a delight to the eye, and a drug to the mind. Never tell a grass widow that she is in the hey-day of life. The girl who marries for a lark often finds out that she was a jay. The idea of marrying will haunt a woman if she has the ghost of a chance. Girls feel proud of having many admirers, but one old one is really more to her credit.

In Retrospect.

[Puck:] "In fact, messieurs," the professor, still addressing his class, went on to say, "history affords the record of no fewer than two migrations sufficient to have shifted the weight of population from one part of the world to another, namely: "First, The incursion of the Scythian tribes of the fifth century, whereby the Western Roman Empire was extinguished, and the modern nations of Europe had their beginning. "Second, The invasion of the United States of America in the twentieth century, by Russian dancers."

SHOULD BE THANKFUL.

A Few Suggested Causes for Use on Thanksgiving Day.

Now that Thanksgiving is drawing near there are doubtless a number of citizens who would like to have further plans and specifications dealing particularly with the subjects for which they ought to give thanks. Upon deep reflection, says a writer in the New York Evening Sun, I find that every one has been favored by fortune in at least one respect, and these are the things for which they ought to give thanks. The barbers, instead of reviling the safety razor, should give thanks that hair continues to grow.

The dressmakers should give thanks that the styles are about to change.

So should the public.

The housewife who has been troubled with flies should give thanks that they were not bees.

The business man should give thanks that he has not yet gone into bankruptcy.

The business man who has gone bankrupt should give thanks that, come what may, the worst is now over.

The father of twins should give thanks that his wife is now able to bring up two children at one time.

The night watchman should give thanks for the reliability of alarm clocks.

The doctors should give thanks for draughts, wet feet and Welsh rabbits.

Dogs should give thanks for cats.

And cats should give thanks that no one can aim a milk bottle successfully on a dark night.

The sausage manufacturer should give thanks on general principles. So should the farmer, the coal dealer and the maker of ladies' puffs.

The glazier should give thanks for boys who play ball on the streets.

The stenographer should give thanks that the office boy always inwardly takes her part when the boss is irritable.

The office boy should give thanks that when business is dull he can always pass the time washing his hands and taking a drink of water.

The motorman should give thanks that his lot may be humble, but he is never tempted to graft on the tires or gasoline.

The burlesque actress should give thanks for the human interest in anatomy.

Every man should give thanks that there are no such things as hobble pants or hoop trousers.

The crook at large should give thanks that he has kept out of jail.

The crook in jail should give thanks that he is comfortably fixed for the winter.

The bachelor should give thanks that he isn't married.

The married man should give thanks for the fine weather we have been having.

The artist should give thanks that he may be famous a hundred years hence.

The halo girl should give thanks that she can always make the receiver click like mad in the irascible subscriber's ear.

The single girl should give thanks that she is single.

The aviator should give thanks for still being able to give thanks.

The married woman should give thanks that she is married.

The living should give thanks that they are not yet dead.

And the dead should give thanks that they are out of a world of trouble.

THE WORLD'S LEADING DRINKERS.

The people of Belgium individually drink more beer than do the people of any other country in the world, their quantity being 55.2 gallons yearly per capita of the population.

The total quantities of beer drunk by the principal beer-drinking countries of the world and the yearly per capita consumption in each country are (Bureau of Statistics):

	Yearly consumption, Gallons.	Per capita, Gallons.
Belgium	411,700,000	55.2
United Kingdom	1,297,500,000	31.44
Germany	1,703,500,000	26.47
Denmark	61,700,000	22.98
United States	1,851,200,000	20.09
Austria	492,900,000	17.17
Australia	56,900,000	13.29
Sweden	72,300,000	12.31
France	375,000,000	9.51
Canada	47,400,000	6.38

More beer is consumed in the United States than in any other country of the world, but, as shown above, Belgium, the United Kingdom, Germany and Denmark largely exceed this country in per capita consumption.

Of distilled spirits the leading drinkers by quantity are the United States and Russia, each with a yearly per capita consumption of 1.45 gallons. Comparison follows:

	Yearly consumption, Gallons.	Per capita, Gallons.
Russia	332,700,000	1.45
United States	324,500,000	1.45
Germany	94,200,000	1.40
France	70,900,000	1.21
Austria	54,700,000	1.21
Hungary	43,700,000	2.11
United Kingdom	46,100,000	0.98
Italy	26,100,000	0.76
Netherlands	10,800,000	1.24
Belgium	10,700,000	1.42
Sweden	8,800,000	1.27
Denmark	8,000,000	2.97

There we see that, per capita of population, the Danes are by far the heaviest drinkers of spirits in the world, Russia and the United States each ranking seventh.

Turning to wine we find that, in orders as named, the world's heaviest drinkers per capita are France, Italy and Portugal. Comparison follows:

	Yearly consumption, Gallons.	Per capita, Gallons.
France	1,541,400,000	39.36
Italy	1,012,000,000	31.17
Portugal	146,300,000	27.29
Spain	345,900,000	18.23
Switzerland	53,200,000	14.55
Germany	74,500,000	19.16
Bulgaria	34,900,000	8.19
Austria	178,600,000	6.34
United States	60,500,000	0.66
United Kingdom	15,200,000	0.31

The per capita wine consumptions of both the United States and the United Kingdom are surprisingly small.

The plan of freezing chimney gases from soot and dust by washing has given quite astonishing results at a coon factory at York, Eng. The gases are drawn by a fan from the boiler, passed through a brick-lined chamber containing the water spray, and then led by a tortuous course to a rather short stack. For 300 cubic feet of hot gases per hour, one gallon of water is used. The pea stack coal contains 40 per cent of dust, and in twenty-four hours the smoke-washing has collected as much as 1600 pounds of grit, of about 1.5 per cent of the coal burned.

to Lombardi on his production in general and the mechanical effects in the last act. While not elaborate, they were in harmony and thoroughly worthy—thoroughly worthy.

With these sets of unusually good scenery that Lombardi has been showing there were exhibited the slightest judgment or artistic intelligence in the conduct of the stage the total result would be an extremely happy one. Knowledge of the possibilities of light effects, or even the proper use of the switchboard, seems to be absolutely nil. The running of the curtain is atrocious. The properties are usually matters of hilarity, very generous dimensions, and there was furnished them last night, for act two, a "couch," which would have been ridiculous in a doll's house.

The disposition of the chorus and its stage business was very good. For the first time, Quervieri had a score brought on his desk, but he seldom referred to it.

Events in Local Society

THE early winter prediction for a gay season has surely come true. The debutante parties are a trifle smarter than last season, and even the small informal gatherings are arranged with more care than usual. Not for one second have the young buds been forgotten, and their first season, which, of course, is the most wonderful, will go down in social history as a delightful one.

The ball given last evening at the Los Angeles Country Club by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Sartori of West Twenty-eighth street, Miss Juliet Bolleau, more than delighted the most expectant. The decorations were attractive, and instead of holding to a set color scheme, flowers of different shades were artistically combined in the room. Chrysanthemums were used with the debutante flowers, and these were all arranged in huge brown Japanese baskets.

The merry evening was concluded with an elaborate supper served in the dining-room and on the terrace, which was elegantly ornamented with flowers. The debutante table was attractive with pink chrysanthemums and pink-shaded candles and monogram cards marked covers for the honorees, who were seated in an imported frock of the palest of blue tulle, with trimmings of gold and silver lace and garlands of flowers in harmonizing shades. Miss Margaret Gaffey was crowned in white lace with American beauty garnitures; Miss Elizabeth Hicks, American beauty, spangled chiffon over white tulle; Miss Katherine Ramsey, French creation of pale pink satin with an overdrap of blue chiffon; Miss Margaret Drake, Grecian gown of pink spangled chiffon; Miss Clara Watson, Miss Elizabeth Watson, Harry A. Wier, Dr. Robert Cunningham, Gurney Newlin, Clinton Jody, Everett Barker, Dan Kelsey and Frank Gilchrist.

Hellman-Aronson Wedding.

The wedding last evening at Hotel Alexandria of Miss Amy Hellman, daughter of Mrs. Herman W. Hellman of this city, to Mr. Dan Aronson of San Francisco was one of the notable and interesting events. The service was read by Rabbi Hecht in the new assembly room which was beautified with white bride roses. These flowers formed an altar where stood members of the bride party, consisting of Miss Florence Marx, who acted as maid of honor; Miss Sarah Hellman, a cousin, bridesmaid; Dan Aronson, best man; and Irving Hellman, Robert Ross, George Cohn and Sylvan Davis, the latter three from San Francisco.

Miss Hellman was attired in white satin veiled with embroidered chiffon with garlands of orange blossoms and rose point, and she wore a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of orchids. Miss Marx wore a gown of apricot-colored chiffon with a bouquet of American beauties and Miss Sarah Hellman was attractive in pale green chiffon with a bouquet of American beauties.

Miles-Gray Reception.

One of the most beautifully appointed of the week's social events was the large reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Harzey Miles and her daughter, Mrs. Marion Robert Gray, at the beautiful new home of the former, No. 48 Westmoreland place. Decorations for the affair were especially artistic. In the reception hall and large living-room a glorious wealth of great yellow chrysanthemums nodded a sunny welcome to the guests and a profusion of polished palms and ferns were used.

The large tea table set with a handsome lace cloth, had as its centerpiece a huge cluster of the golden chrysanthemums, combined with autumn leaves, and in the breakfast-room the decorations were of Japanese. Tea and wafers were served in this room, the young ladies assisting—Miss Dorothy Jenkins, Miss Mildred Strong, Miss Sue Adelle Miles and Miss Janet Mackie—all dressed in Japanese costumes.

Red geraniums and greenery brightened the den and the large roof garden. Here a professional fortune-teller held forth, and punch was served. Young ladies assisting there were Miss Edna Miles, Miss Ellen Andrews, Miss Elizabeth Judah and Miss Newberry.

Mrs. Miles, wearing a lavender gown of brocaded velvet and chiffon cloth, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Gray, who was dressed in a gown fashioned of blue panne velvet with a tunic ornamented with gold and silver brilliants. Other unobscured ladies were Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Richard Benson, Mrs. J. E. Carr, Mrs. Howard Squires, Mrs. A. F. Abbott, Mrs. Frank Walsh, Miss Gretchen Hill, Miss Pauline Volmer and Mrs. W. I. Hollingsworth.

A Socialist Move.

A disguised move by the Socialists was sprung Tuesday afternoon, when Robert Wagner issued invitations to about fifty of the best-known women in the city to attend a party at his studio to hear an address by Alexander Irvine.

When many of the women invited expressed surprise and regret at the nature of the afternoon's entertainment, Mr. Wagner insisted that his guests should hear a side of the present campaign with which possibly some of them were unfamiliar. Several women who felt compelled to accept to decline the invitation told Mr. Wagner that they were entirely familiar with the theories of socialism, but that they do not regard the present issue as anything more than an attempt to place Los Angeles in the hands of the San Francisco labor unions, and that they could find no sympathy with any fair which had for its motive the making of converts for such a cause.

In spite of the fact that a majority of the women of Los Angeles have made up their minds from the outset of this campaign that they want none of Job Harriman and the labor-union rule for which he stands, and, in spite of the fact that even the women Socialists of the city in large numbers deny that Harriman and his supporters stand for the right kind of socialism or for anything more than a bald attempt to unionize the city at the expense of all industrial progress, Wagner's ill-considered ruse will succeed in giving Irvine and his inflammatory doctrine an audience this afternoon, which he never could have secured under any other circumstances.

"There is hardly a doubt," said one bright woman last night, "but Mr. Irvine will present the utopia of theoretical socialism and try to arouse sympathy on that score when we all know that this campaign has nothing to do with that kind of socialist ideal."

"The women of Los Angeles are not to be deceived by oratory. This talk that we need to hear both sides is an adroit way of securing hearers for a losing cause. We have known both sides of this campaign for a long time, and a tea party in a climber's studio with a dramatic speaker from New York to make a sensational ap-

UP TO M'CAREY TO FIND OPPONENT FOR WOLGAST.

Ad's Manager, Tom Jones, Declares It's Jack Welch for Referee or Bout Is Off. But Adds That Champion Will Meet Anyone Else Local Promoters Will Pick to Replace Freddie.

THEY WRANGLE OVER REFEREE; M'CAREY SAYS, "I DON'T CARE."

THE referee for the Wolgast-Fredie Welsh contest on Thanksgiving Day will be Jack Welch or no one. If Freddie Welsh does not agree by 6 o'clock Thursday night to stand by the articles his manager, Long, signed last July, I will call the fight off, and demand his forfeit. —Tom Jones, manager for Wolgast.

"I will not fight Ad Wolgast with Jack Welch in the ring. However, I will not draw the line on any one else." —Freddie Welsh.

"I don't care whom they select, or what they do." —Manager Tom M'Carey.

THIS is the condition of affairs at present in regard to the Wolgast-Fredie Welsh championship battle at Vernon on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 19, and according to the developments yesterday, no one can tell whether or not the boys will come together.

"If they do not fight here Thanksgiving, they will not fight any place on the Coast this year," declared Jones. "I will stick by the articles we signed last July, and if Freddie Welsh wants to back out of the match, that's up to him. The records or the articles, themselves, will prove who is right in this matter, and the fight bugs can judge for themselves."

"When the match was arranged last July Manager M'Carey, George Hancock, Baron Long and myself got together in M'Carey's office on South Broadway, to consider the articles of agreement. The terms offered were satisfactory to all parties. The only thing there was any talk about was who the referee would be."

"At that time Charlie Epton, the former club referee, had resigned, and was out of the game. It was proposed by some one that Eddie Smith referee the go, and I suggested Jack Welch of San Francisco, in case Smith could not serve."

"Accordingly, Mr. Hancock, who drew up the articles, wrote in the articles with a pen and ink the name of Jack Welch."

"Another thing was the weight question. I proposed to make it 135 pounds, ringside for 15 minutes, but Hancock made it, but after this, 133 ringside was put in '2:30 p.m.' This is practically the same as ringside weight, for all afternoon fights are supposed to begin at 3 o'clock."

"M'Carey spoke up and said that inasmuch as the second prelim might be prolonged for some reason, that he would suggest cutting out that 2:30 business and it was out out."

"We were all together, and if I remember correctly, the articles were not signed that day, but within the next day or two, Long had come to San Francisco in the meantime, and the articles were sent up to him to sign. He sent down signed articles to M'Carey, but I never saw them. It was understood between all of us that Welch's name was to be put in the articles with that of Eddie Smith, and I did not suppose there would ever be any question about the referee. Long knew all the time that Welch's name was put in as a referee, and no one has ever heard of him kicking about it until now."

"I think that Freddie Welsh is afraid of Wolgast, and is trying to get out of the match."

"To settle the question as near as I can settle it, I will refer anyone to the articles that M'Carey, Long and myself signed. They are as follows:

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT

These articles of agreement entered into this 15th day of July, 1911, by and between T. J. M'Carey for the Pacific Athletic Club, party of the first part, and Ad Wolgast and Fred Welsh, parties of the second part, witnesses:

That the parties of the second part agree to box 20 rounds at Vernon Arena on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, 1911, for the lightweight championship, and in consideration of the parties of the first part fulfilling their part of this agreement the parties of the second part agree to give Ad Wolgast amount as agreed with 61% of the moving picture privilege, and to Fred Welsh for his and $9000 and 4% of the moving picture privilege.

The weight shall be 135 pounds.

Twenty-five hundred dollars shall be deposited by each of the parties of the second part not later than thirty days before the date of the contest for weight and appearance.

Jack Welch or Eddie Smith, the official referee of the club, shall act as referee.

PRINCIPALS: T. J. M'Carey, for Wolgast, BARON LONG, for Welsh.

"At the end of the paragraph about the weight was originally typewritten the figures '2:30 P.M.' but these were scratched out in M'Carey's suggestion. To lead the final paragraph beginning 'Eddie Smith, the official referee of the club' were written the words 'Jack Welch, or, Mr. Hancock doing this with pen and ink at my suggestion. Long knew all about the name of Welch going in there and everyone understood it."

"Now I insist on Jack Welch acting as referee as his name was in the articles I signed. If anything should happen to Jack Welch before the date set for the fight I would have no objections whatever to having Charlie Epton referee, for he is a good man and a capable one. However, as long as Jack Welch's name is in the articles as referee, I certainly would not give him a black mark by consenting that anyone else be put in his place."

"I have told M'Carey to get anyone he can to take Freddie Welsh's place against Wolgast, and we are ready to fight here Thanksgiving. We do not pick our opponents."

"When asked concerning the proposition that Jack Welch's name had been written in the articles, Manager M'Carey made the following statement: 'I cannot remember distinctly just which articles Long signed. There was a set drawn up, and after he left for San Francisco a copy was sent him and I think he sent back one he had drawn up himself. I cannot remember the details now.'

"At any event, he has not a leg to stand on in this present controversy for it was understood by everyone and by all the parties concerned that Jack Welch's name was to be put in the articles as a possible referee. Eddie Smith was the man picked upon because Epton was out of the game at the time, but Welch's name was put in at Jones' suggestion. I believed."

"I am not trying to get anyone to take Freddie Welsh's place in case he does not come to time, but the fact that he is going right along with his trained makes me think that the squabble will be adjusted some way."

FIGHT BUGS THINK WELSH IS IN WRONG.

The consensus of opinion among the fight bugs along Spring Street is that Freddie Welsh is getting himself in wrong. No one not on the inside knows whether the name Jack Welch was written in the articles before or after Baron Long signed for the fight and no one really cares.

Freddie Welsh is not a champion of any kind or country and naturally he cannot or has no champion's right to dictate anything as to how Wolgast should be fought.

FIGHT FANS MISS FINE CONTEST.

FREDDIE WELSH AND MANAGER JONES MEET.

Verbal Encounter Produces Violent Fusillade Which Nearly Ends in Blows and All Because Freddie Said Something Wolgast's Brains Didn't Like.

A fight of championship caliber, but without the curb of the Marquis of Queensberry rules, or the guiding hand of a referee, almost occurred on the midway at Venice yesterday, and it was all on account of a referee, at that he put in Tom coming down the street.

Briefly stated the trouble commenced when Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, changed to encounter Freddie Welsh, of championship aspirations, and took him to task concerning the published stories in which Welsh is credited with the statement that Jones doctored the articles of agreement for the coming Wolgast-Welsh bout Thanksgiving.

Jones and Welsh locked horns early yesterday morning at Venice with the result that there was nearly a riot. It seems that Welsh was coming out of the hotel and ran into Tom coming down the street.

Jones stopped Fred and asked him how he was, for an opener.

"All right," said Fred.

Then the cloud lifted and Jones called in and called Freddie all the names on the list from A to Z. Freddie just stood by and listened interestedly. This got Jones's goat and he got even hotter under his collar.

"Say you, I have a good mind to knock your block off and save Wolgast the trouble," said Jones. "Just come around in the alley and I will show you that the manager of the champion is some scrapper himself."

Freddie merely smiled and never once lost his temper.

"Jones, I would not run the risk of breaking or dirtying my hands on your face," said Welsh. "You can't get anything by this and it looks like kid work to me. I thought you were a grown-up man."

With these few remarks Freddie walked out to his training quarters on the pier and went to work at his morning exercises. Later in the morning, while Welsh, Rivers and Hahn were on the road, they ran into Jones in his auto going to the city. Jones made a few remarks to Welsh, and all that Fred said in reply was: "You make me laugh. Ten per cent. Jones."

With these few remarks Freddie walked out to his training quarters on the pier and went to work at his morning exercises. THE PRELIMINARIES.

Wayne and Franks will go six rounds; Dennis and Hahn ten rounds.

Atlantic feet today by defeating the Idaho's eleven, 6 to 2. A silver trophy, offered by R. L. Berkman of this city, went to the winners.

The Connecticut's players made their touchdown in the third period when Logan, who did the most brilliant work of the day, recovered a punt almost on the Idaho goal line, and carried the ball over. He followed this by kicking goal.

Hahn scored in the second period when David kicked a field goal from the forty-yard line.

PRELIMS LIKE MAIN EVENTS.

CLASS TO APPEARE FOR CONLEY-RIVERS BOUT.

Eddie Dennis and Louis Hahn Show Speed and Cleverness in Their Workouts While Dick Wayne's Battle With Gage Promises to Be Real Headline Attraction.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

The preliminaries to the Rivers-Contest fight have crossed more interest than any that have taken place in Vernon in a long time.

Dick Wayne and Eddie Dennis are training at the St. Ignace Club; Frank Gage is training at Jack Doyle's and Louis Hahn is training at Shaw's armistice at Venice.

All of these boys except Gage are main eventers. Wayne has been fighting main events in the four-round game in San Francisco. Dennis has been fighting in the West and Hahn has been fighting throughout the East and the South.

Each and every one of these boys is as sincere in his work as if fighting for a championship contest. They all realize that the showing they make next Saturday means the making or breaking of them as far as Los Angeles is concerned.

Eddie Dennis was the first boy to don the gloves at the St. Ignace Club yesterday afternoon. He boxed two rounds with Mike Fuchs and two rounds with Dick Wayne. Both boys were fast and little quarter was given by either man, showing the earnestness that these boys are putting into their work.

It has been reported that Dennis was a little over weight, but he was down to the weight today, and his manager, Fred Harlow, was pleased with Eddie's condition.

Dennis and Hahn are both aggressive boxers and this bout will be a hummer from the start. Dennis hits hard and fast with both hands, and is fast on his feet.

Hahn has been making a fine showing with Freddie Welsh at Venice for the past few days. He also is a fast and hard hitter and fast little featherweight, who is in Los Angeles looking for a match with Danny Webster.

For is one of the fastest and cleverest heavy ever turned out of San Francisco and is a nephew of Alvin Fox, who was the champion of the amateur boxing in the 125-pound class some twenty-five years ago.

He boxes very much like his uncle, and his like a streak of lightning with both hands. He is fast and clever on his feet, but is not an extra hard hitter. A match between him and Danny would be worth going to see.

Dick Wayne is determined to win his match with Freddie Gage. Dick says that he is fighting for that little wife and baby, and that Gage will have to fight him off his feet and knock him out to win the fight. Dick has yet to lose his first fight, and as he is proud of his wife and little twenty-month-old daughter, he is determined to go up there.

Charlie O'Connor, Gage's manager, agreed to put up a $15 forfeit for every round over the stipulated weight, which was 135 pounds at 19 o'clock in the morning.

Roger Carroll, who is looking after the interests of Wayne, has put up his money, but has not been able to locate O'Connor. Roger said last night that he wanted it understood that if the match fell through that he was not to blame, as he has kept his word with both O'Connor and the Pacific Athletic Club, but that he is determined to go up there.

FA FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN BY OLIVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: One reason why women of today retain their youth longer than did those of yesterday is that they do none of the spinning, weaving and little of the household drudgery which was considered necessary in the olden time. Liberated from these tasks they have liberated themselves from other tasks and it has dawned upon women that it is their first duty to take good care of themselves, and to preserve their youth and good looks.

The Christmas spirit is a strong magnet and it is difficult to keep away from the stores, when there are beautiful articles upon all the counters and in all the windows. Nevertheless, the great interest in the political campaign, women are making out their Christmas lists and planning from day to day what to give to all members of the family and friends. There is an opportunity to set in a business-like manner, as well as in matters of household concern. The first step is making out complete lists of those whom you wish to favor, and in giving thought as to their likes and needs. I maintain that gifts should be in the way of something which the recipient can use—rather than something which is merely perfunctory. There is a sufficiently wide range. The useful may be made to include the beautiful, and, in fact, should—especially when in the form of a gift. The most humble practical of presents may be so clothed with the gift spirit as to make it beautiful. Never forget to accompany your gift—whatever its cost—however trifling, with a gift sentiment—for thus it is distinguished from the sordid. I knew a girl who makes it a point, throughout the year, to collect appropriate sentiments and quotations to include with her Christmas gifts. So personal and apt are these, that they form a most important part of the present when sent.

Either a bit of verse, or a couplet expressing a good wish, or a thought in prose, containing the personal element, adds to the giving of any kind of a gift.

Silk Aprons. With the popularity of the apron for all occasions, even some dressy ones, there is a return of the old time silk apron, at our grandmothers' such aprons make appropriate gifts for Christmas, and the silk ones, which some of the stores are at present holding, afford an opportunity for the purchase of material at little cost, while the making of the apron by hand adds sentiment to its value.

Slip Pillow Covers. One of the fads brought into use for the cradle for the cradle, the cover of crocheted wool or cotton, for the "slip" pillows—as are called the small "tuck around" pillows used upon the bedstead. For such a cover, crocheted from warm wool is most inviting and really comfortable, when placed behind the head or the shoulders, upon a chilly day. Such an article as a gift would please almost any one—either man or woman.

Jewelry "Opening." The opening of a large jewelry establishment on Broadway, yesterday, the handsome quarters were thronged with appreciative customers who spent hours in admiring the new and handsome jewelry, gems and articles of virtue, collected from the world's centers by the great firm. One of the main features was the table set with rare Minton decorated in gold, Venetian glass with gold embellishment, and the quaint chains and holding in their "gums" Killarney pears. Rare lace and linen, shimmered here beneath the glow of costlier lamp shades, bringing out the artistic beauty of the table ware, all of which partakes of the gentile quality for which the house is noted. In the Tiffany room, rare pieces of this well-known ware were shown, and some extraordinary lamps attracted much attention. Probably there are few collections of art glass west of New York than that shown by this Los Angeles house. No man need remain undecided as to what to purchase for his wife, when he may purchase one of these rare pieces for her Christmas remembrance.

Or, let it be a Rookwood piece. To my mind, nothing in art so arouses the imagination as do these Rookwood bits. Hinting of sky and sea, of woods and fields, the truest art of this ware, lies in the very fact that the imagination of the beholder is aroused, but not led. Something is left to the onlooker. He has a part to perform in the creation. It is always believed the most supreme art to be that which did not tell all—but allowed the participant to really participate in the creation, and it is thus with Rookwood. You see a faint glimpse of the tops of orchard trees, with the sky intervening, and your mind at once creates the remainder of the scene.

A Hint of a Watch. A watch no larger than one's thumb nail is concealed at the back of the latest Parisian pendant, seen at the jewelry opening. Complete in every respect and a perfect time piece, this watch is convenient to wear where one can not too obviously glimpse the Cinderella time in time to flee from the host. Just glance at the watch, and behold a new piece of entirely different apparel. All you see this wonder watch is also a wonder pendant in several ways.

welcome a new trial with its consequent delay, the State wants to begin the testimony before a jury composed of men well equipped mentally and physically.

In addition to excusing Green, the court also halted the examination of M. W. Corcoran, who had been named by the defense for the purpose of "I am satisfied that this juror is unable to endure the inconvenience incident to this case, and that he is not qualified physically to be a juror," said the judge.

JUDGE BARS ARGUMENT. Special Prosecutor Vermilyea, who was doing the questioning, made no comment upon the matter, but both Darrow and Scott were on their feet to protest. The court stated that the defense could of course take legal exceptions to his ruling on the inadmissibility of Corcoran's name, but that he did not care to hear any argument.

L. E. Gilhouse of this city was first drawn to take Green's place. He professed to have conscientious scruples against the infliction of the death penalty. He was excused and C. A. Heath of Compton substituted. Dennis Bennett of this city was drawn to fill Corcoran's place. There was some question about Bennett being upon the last assessment roll, as he recently moved to Los Angeles from Downey. It was later found to be all right.

Heath, in answer to questions of Attorney Davis, stated that he was born in County Kent, England. He said he had been many years in this country. For the past few months he had not been taking any daily paper, but had access to a neighbor's upon the day of the explosion.

"Do you know of the warfare between organized labor and the times?" asked Davis.

"I have heard of it."

"Have you any prejudice against labor unions?"

"No, not as long as they are within the law."

"Did you know of a strike last year in the metal trades?"

"I never heard anything definite about it."

"You never found out which side was right, did you?"

"No sir."

"When you read in your neighbor's paper about the explosion, did you form the impression that at least the labor unions had got even with The Times?" asked Davis.

"I did not. I never formed a definite opinion as to the cause."

Heath said the fact that the defendant is a member of a labor organization would not influence him in the least.

WOULD REOPEN CASE FOR DISBARMENT OF DARROW.

A petition asking the Grievance Committee of the Los Angeles Bar Association to reopen the case in which J. H. Levering, civil and hydraulic engineer, made charges against Clarence R. Darrow, chief counsel for the McNamara defense, asking that he show cause why he should not be disbarred, was filed with that body yesterday afternoon. It is not expected the committee will report for several days.

In his original affidavit, Levering made the representation that about June 1 of this year, at the request of J. H. Levering, he "made certain surveys, maps, plans and calculations in behalf of the defense" in the McNamara case. A short time after the McNamara case was closed, he assumed charge of the defense, and, according to Levering, asked that his work be rushed. Then Levering made an affidavit under oath, the following allegation:

"That during the early progress of the work, I was informed that no funds were available to pay the fees and the wages of the draftsmen and other persons engaged on the work, and certain drafts were drawn by the McNamara defense, which I, J. H. Levering, in behalf of said defense, to the amount of $1400, running from ten to sixty days from date of the McNamara case, and that subsequently Mr. Darrow informed me that the drafts would be honored and paid from the defense fund."

Levering declares the drafts were repaid to him, but he asked that Darrow be cited to appear before the bar association and show cause why he should not be disbarred.

The Grievance Committee, which is composed of J. W. Ballard, J. W. Swanwick, Lucius K. Chase, Jesse F. Waterman and Lloyd W. Moultrie, after investigating the matter, reported its unanimous recommendation that no further proceedings be had thereon for the disbarment or suspension of Darrow, and that the complainant be notified accordingly.

In his petition for a reopening of the case, Levering says:

"To a layman it would seem strange that after a careful consideration of the charges, which can be easily and quickly verified or disproven, that your honorable association would, either for the vindication of Mr. Darrow or the standing of the bar, allow these charges to remain unchallenged."

Dr. Watson in Custody Two Hours Before He's Able to Qualify in Amount Asked.

Dr. C. V. P. Watson, who was arrested some weeks ago on the charge of having performed an illegal operation, was held to answer to the Superior Court in the sum of $20,000 for Justice Justice yesterday afternoon. At almost the same hour, but before Justice Justice, Harry Atkinson accused of being involved in the same case, was bound over under $2500 bail.

As the young man had been under $2500 bail, he was not detained long after the disposition of his case. But Watson was in the custody of Constable Woodbury more than two hours before he was qualified in the sum of $20,000. His sureties are W. R. Dickinson for $20,000, and Charles H. Berkey and C. A. not readily make them out where you stand:

OUR MARTYRED MEN.

This imposing pile, reared by the Los Angeles Times, stands here to perpetuate the names, the virtues and the memories of those honored dead who in life labored in the ranks of the journal which they served so long and so well, and who fell at their posts in the Times Building on the awful morning of October 1, 1910—victims of conspiracy, dynamite and fire: "The Crime of the Century."

"Some of Duty," they were defenders of Industrial Freedom under Law. When they died they were carrying the torch of freedom, the torch of the American citizen, empowered to labor freely, without menace and without fear, in the performance of their duty to themselves, their families, their journal and their kind.

In life the faithful workmen whose fire-branded sacred remains have common sepulture beneath this sod, made a luminous record of duty done, serving as a beacon-light to all who may follow them—to all who value Industrial Independence above Industrial Slavery. These noble martyrs, manfully refusing to renounce their convictions or to stultify their conduct, died in the faith which was theirs, and is ours likewise. They stood fast for a great principle; dying, they passed the standard on for us to uphold.

Their consecrated dust, moistened by tears of measureless compassion, will nourish the Tree of Liberty, the supreme sacrifice of their useful lives shall endure as a deathless example to their countrymen; their bodies pale as no more, but their souls are immortal. This lasting memorial stands as a profound tribute to the respect, admiration and affection held by those who knew them best—their families, friends, employers, co-workers and associates—the scores of loyal men who sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

SWEET MUSIC.

When Gen. Otis ceased speaking, the Euterpean Quartette sang with touching effect Dudley Buck's wonderful song-hymn, "On the Sea." During the ceremonies the quartette also sang "Remember Thy Creator," "Rhodes and Bleep Thy Last Sleep," by Barnaby. And it was remarked by many that this sterling band of singers, whose work has been for so many years known to the Los Angeles public, never sang better than yesterday. The appropriateness of their selections, as well as the splendid effect of the renditions, added not a little to the success of the occasion.

The dedicatory oration was delivered by Dr. Robert J. Burdette. In the minds of this noted orator's admirers he rose yesterday to almost his greatest forensic height. His voice was wonderfully sweet and clear, with a chord of tender minor running through it that swept the very heart strings of his hearers.

DEDICATORY ORATION.

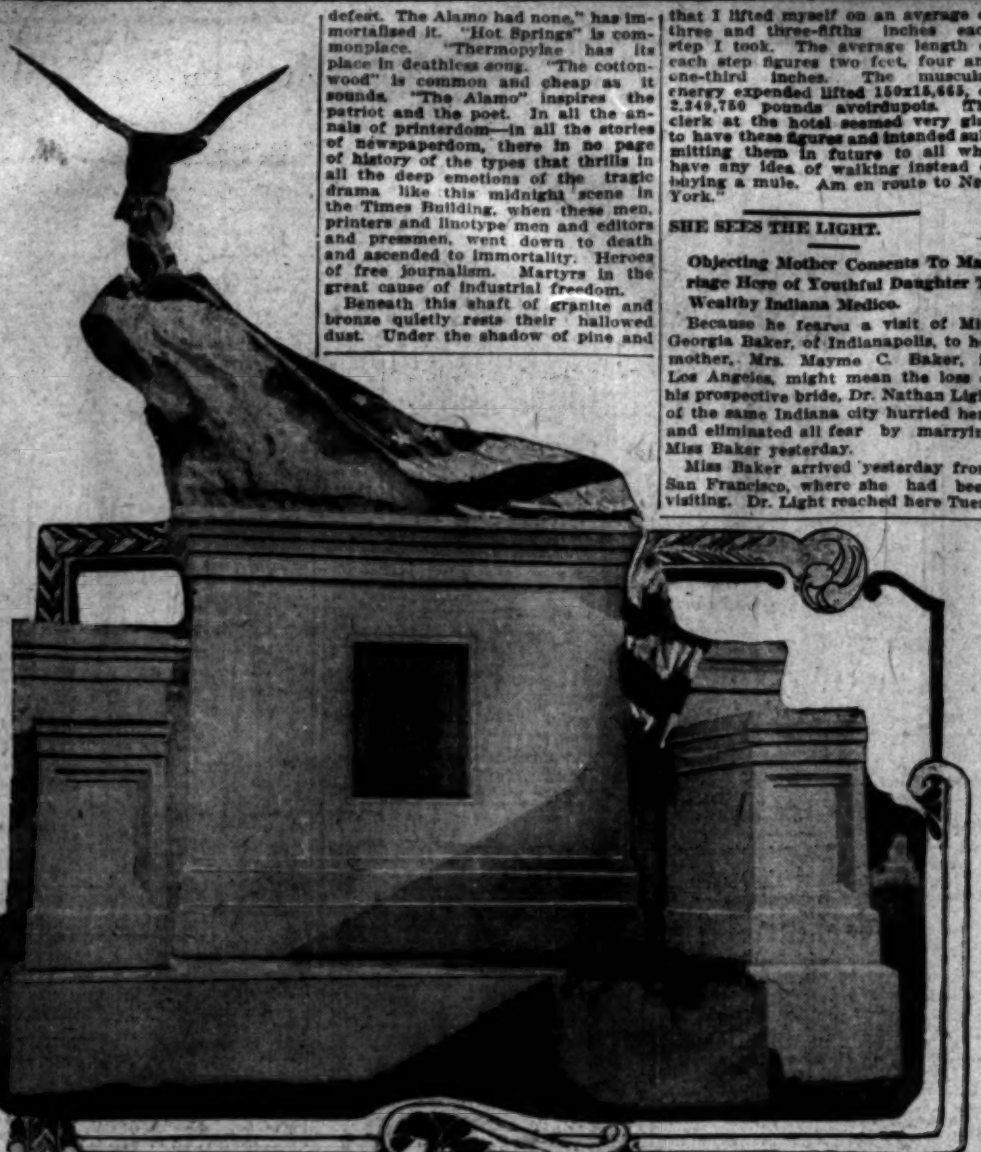

DELIVERED BY DR. BURDETTE.

"It is the cause," said Napoleon Bonaparte, "and not the death, that makes the martyr." For the mere gift of death is a thing common to all men, hero and coward, saint and sinner, patriot and traitor. But now and again in the great crises of Time, when the thought of the selfish world is set on common things like wealth and fame, and pleasure, God calls for a hero—a man of a platoon of the 7000 that have not bent the knee to Baal, to stand forth and die nobly, splendidly, sublimely, that right and justice and freedom shall have their witnesses on the earth. So Socrates drank the deadly hemlock, as one who pours a libation to life, and none died but the men who gave the teacher the poison. So Jesus Christ died on the tree of death, and now to look at the cross, which he made a throne of life is to live forever. So died Nathan Hale, on a common gibbet, the strange shame of the hangman's noose, and schoolboys today give his name on the page of their history, and repeat, as a living watchword of patriotism his dying words. So died Abraham Lincoln, and the simple grandeur of his life blossomed in his death, and his fruitage comes to its harvest all the days of all the years. So died these men whose memory we come today to honor.

The Times newspaper, at its own cost, gently and with all appreciation, refusing the desire of hundreds to unite in the erection of this testimonial, places this memorial, and dedicates it to the memory of the heroic men, soldiers in the ranks of industry, who gave their lives as witnesses to the righteousness of industrial freedom, and who now sleep beneath the shadow of this shaft. But it consecrates it to the living cause for which they died.

This monument is erected here, not that these martyrs may not be forgotten. Love will remember them, and teach their names and their heroism to their children's children, writing the epitaphs of the beloved dead upon the fleshy tablets of the heart, more lasting than inscriptions graven in granite and bronze, and which, if placed, "lest we forget." For it is a teacher who will not only commemorate the heroism of the men who died, but will inspire anew the cause which lives.

Not only a monument to the dead, but a lighthouse for the living. In the stormy, overclouded days and the dark and starless nights, which yet may come in the life of the nation, will shine through the tempest as a star. It will gleam across the coming waves, a light that at once warms of danger and guides to safety. So long as it stands, into the storm of our warring days, into our hearts growing calmer and selfless and forgetful, it will call with the thrill of the dead years come to life—

"Remember," the dead will call from their graves. "Remember, not us, but the cause for which we gave the measureless price of our lives. Not us, but the hideous thing which slew us as we toiled. Remember, the foul spirit of hate and destruction that in one swift hour of desolation ofered upon the bloody altar of anarchy a score of innocent lives, a great household of industry, enterprise, intelligence, and much more than all this."

For one cannot trace the way of the waves of this awful tragedy, as they recall in a hundred directions from the smoking ruins which the blood of the slain men strove to quell the lurid flames set on by murder. The score of human lives can be counted and listed in the report of the massacre. But the homes pained in mourning, the wives robbed in the dark habiliments of widowhood, the laughing little children, turned into weeping orphans, love shrouding its sobbing figure in sackcloth, the loneliness bringing heartache into the true camaraderie and loyal yoke-fellowships of labor—only shall measure this in the statistics of cruelty and crime! The spirit of brutality that is not content to re-joice in the sorrow that is all too common to humanity, but must take the joy and laughter and love that make our lives; when all the brotherhood of man shall be a fact worldwide, even as it is a truth of God; when all the mistakes of all of us; when all the cruel misunderstandings that have separated and embittered our lives; when all the bitter wrongs we have inflicted, and all the cruel wrongs we have suffered, shall be corrected by infinite wisdom and eternal righteousness; when the sorrow of our lives shall be fainter than the memory of the vanished cloud of a summer long gone by.

Dr. Burdette was followed by Rev. Warren F. Day, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church, who gave the benediction, thus concluding the exercises.

Some Walking Figures.

J. T. Fitzgerald, stopping at the Grand Canyon on his way East, sent a postcard to General Agent McGee of the Santa Fe, giving the following interesting figures: Walked to the river and back today alone. It is seven miles each way, you know, and a drop of over 5000 feet. Counted every step I took returning from valley to flag pole in front of hotel and made it 15,665 steps. defeat. The Alamo had none," has immortalized it. "Hot Springs" is commonplace. "Thermopylae" has its place in deathless song. "The cotton-wood" is common and cheap as it sounds. "The Alamo" inspires the patriot and the poet. In all the annals of printerdom—in all the stories of newspaperdom, there is no page all the deep emotions of the tragic drama, like this midnight scene in the Times Building, when these men, printers and linotype men and editors and pressmen, went down to death and ascended to immortality. Heroes of free journalism. Martyrs in the great cause of industrial freedom.

Beneath this shaft of granite and bronze quietly rests their hallowed dust. Under the shadow of pine and Objecting Mother Consents To Marriage Here of Youthful Daughter To Wealthy Indiana Medic.

Because he feared a visit of Miss Georgia Baker, of Indianapolis, to her mother, Mrs. Mayne C. Baker, in Los Angeles, might mean the loss of his prospective bride, Dr. Nathan Light of the same Indiana city hurried here and eliminated all fear by marrying Miss Baker yesterday.

Miss Baker arrived yesterday from San Francisco, where she had been visiting. Dr. Light reached here Tuesday night and surprised the objecting parent by his appearance at the Trenton hotel, on Olive near Fifth street. When he stated determinedly that he had come to marry her daughter Mrs. Baker made no further objection.

The ceremony was performed yesterday by Rev. Charles Edward Locke, Pastor of the First Methodist church. Dr. Light, one of the richest men in Indianapolis, who lives in the suburb of Broad Ripple. He is one of the planet Mars, and has large real estate interests.

His son, Nathan, recently acquired his doctor's degree and began practice in Indianapolis. For many months his engagement to Miss Baker has been known but there was reluctance on the part of the bride's mother to have the marriage occur at this time because of the youth of her daughter.

Mrs. Baker is a clerk in the money order department of the Los Angeles postoffice. She was transferred here about a year ago.

LONGEST IN SERVICE.

Patrolman is Retired After Having Been in Department Twenty-four Years—To Receive Pension.

After continuous service in the police department for twenty-four years as a patrolman, Michael Holieran was retired yesterday by the Police Commission. He will receive a pension.

Holieran's record beats any other person on the force for continuous service. For many years he was stationed at First and Spring streets, where he was called to quell a disturbance in a cafe at that corner six years ago. He received injuries from which he has never recovered. Since March 18 last he has been unable to report for duty.

Holieran was a special patrolman for several years before he was regularly appointed, and has seen the city grow from an infant to its present metropolitan proportions.

The City Jail was an adobe building on Spring street north of Franklin, on the site of the Phillips Block when Holieran first began to arrest delinquents of the peace. When he became a regular patrolman the jail occupied quarters on Second near Spring, where there is now a cafeteria.

During his years in uniform Holieran has served under so many police chiefs that he has lost count of them. He has seen many of the most every administration, and sometimes as many as three.

TO PURGE REGISTER OF FRAUDULENT VOTES.

Citizens Committee Is to Take Up Big Task Under Arrangement of the Conference Committee Yesterday. Will Make Thorough Canvass at Once—Precincts to Be Divided.

THE ENORMOUS registration of Los Angeles is to be sifted to the dross, beginning tomorrow, and the spurious and illegal certificates are to be purged from it. This work is to be done by the Citizens' Campaign Committee, according to a statement made last night by Stoddard Jess, chairman of the Conference Committee of the three organizations working for the election of Mayor Alexander and the Good Government ticket.

For several days the task of sifting 151,000 registrations has been before the Conference Committee and it was not until yesterday that the situation became so clear that the work was passed from the Good Government organization to the Citizens' Committee. While the registration canvass is in progress the Good Government organization and the Women's Progressive League will be sending all their energies to educating the voters and seeing that they vote on election day.

County Clerk Leland now has fifty typewriters at work in the day and night transcribing the data from the registration certificates for the precinct indices. It is expected that this work will be completed by tomorrow night. The voting number, name, address, party affiliation, occupation and age of every voter registered since October 5, is being transcribed and as rapidly as it is copied are being hurried to the printer. Copies of this transcript will be furnished to the Citizens' Committee and Good Government organization and will be immediately distributed among the precinct workers for investigation.

The work will be in charge of the Citizens' Sub-committee on Precinct Organization and Canvass, of which Miles S. Gregory is chairman, and the Committee on Law, of which Judge Albert B. Stephens is chairman. Information about doubtful voters may be communicated to the Citizens' campaign headquarters, No. 621 South Spring street.

It will not be the work of a few days, but will be continued until the last minute of election day. Wherever an illegal or fictitious registration is discovered the Clerk will be asked to expunge it and those that may not be cancelled before election day will meet with challenge at the polls.

LIES NAILED IN MAYOR'S SPEECH.

SHOWS THAT CITY'S FINANCES NEVER WERE BETTER.

Asserts That Improvements Rashly Promised by Socialist Candidate Could Never Be Realized by Him Because Nobody Would Buy Bonds. Timely Warnings.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the workers of the Good Government organization last night in Blanchard Hall an appeal was made by Mayor Alexander, Frank P. Doherty, Lewis H. Works and other speakers to every citizen in the audience to consider himself appointed a committee of one to do everything possible more perfectly to organize the forces that are working for the continuation of a decent city government.

An audience of nearly 600 listened attentively for two hours to the speakers and the addresses were often interrupted at the mention of Alexander's name. S. C. Graham, who presided, introduced the Mayor, who told his hearers that the first thing to be considered in the present campaign is good organization.

"The Socialists are well organized," said he. "They came near catching us asleep at the primary, but they will not find us asleep December 5. I cannot see, however, who would be benefited by a change in the city administration. Job Harriman is making a great many foolish promises to the effect that if elected he will raise the wages of all laborers. Harriman is either a knave or a fool, for he should know that he could not make wages better.

"My opponent also says he will build a four-track subway along Broadway, and that he will do this by selling bonds. Where is this money to come from? Will capitalists care to invest their money in enterprises in a city where bonds are turned out like paper from a mill, and in a city in which private property is not respected? Bill Mulholland tells me it would cost about $1000 a foot to construct this Harriman subway, but of course Harriman doesn't mind a little thing like that."

"Harriman says that the gophers are eating the bottom out of the treasury. Is that true?" asked a man in the audience.

"Well, if they are, they have good sharp teeth," replied Alexander. "For the cement in the best that could be had, I want to tell you people plainly just where I stand. I believe in the public ownership of the conduit, of a municipal railway, of the distribution of power and light, and of all public utilities as fast as the city can sell the bonds to complete these improvements. This administration has been accused of being extravagant and of having raised taxes too high. The city now has $450,000 in the reserve fund and is better equipped financially than ever before in its history. I will not speak of Mulholland, but I ask you to take a look at San Francisco during the McCarthy reign. Do we want a similar administration in Los Angeles? Shall the new government over the country that this city has at its head a labor-union man whose principal business for the last few years has been that of a defunct criminal? Do we want to make Los Angeles a dumping ground for all the thugs and crooks in the country? If Harriman is elected the first person to suffer will be those who want to place him in office. The

That there are thousands of fraudulent votes on the Great Register is not doubted. There are already in the hands of the three anti-Socialist organizations the names of hundreds of doubtful voters and scores that are surely fraudulent.

In the first inspection of the 150,000 new registrations of men and women about 1500 have been rejected temporarily because of deficiencies. Many are without signatures, others do not give facts as to nativity, naturalization or residence, and others are illegible. To all of these have been sent notices by Registrar McAleer and many of them have called at his office and cured the defects. It is not likely that any spurious voters will appear and it is less likely that there will be defects on the face of their registrations.

In addition, there is yet to be rejected the duplications of former registration and these may aggregate thousands.

According to the completed count, precinct No. 183 is the banner in voting numbers. It has 1916 voters—994 men and 922 women. Ranking next to it is precinct No. 52, with 1742, and No. 197, with 1647. Precinct No. 121 is the largest East Side precinct yet counted, having 1527. This is the Labor Temple precinct, one of the banner precincts of the Socialists. The smallest one is No. 23, which has but 31 voters, only one of which is a woman. It is the wholesale and Chinese and Japanese district.

It is now assured that probably fifty precincts will have more than 900 voters, and City Clerk Handley, in conjunction with the Council and City Attorney Shenk, is devising a plan by which they may be divided on election day. Handley said yesterday that there seems now no obstacle to such division, and preparations are being hastened as rapidly as possible. In each case the polling place for the second half of the precinct will be located as near the accustomed place as possible, thus making it convenient in case of error on the part of the voters. As soon as the division is made all of the voters will be notified of it, and the precinct books will be divided.

Each precinct will have two registers, one for men and one for women. The officials are now taking their ingenuity to devise methods by which voting may be facilitated where the precincts are large, but not large enough to justify division. It is the intention to divide only those that have 900 or more.

WARNING.

In a futile effort to revenge themselves upon The Times for its effective advocacy of Industrial Freedom, labor union emissaries—obviously sympathizers with the accused prisoners—are persistently engaged, in different parts of the city, in trying to induce people not to continue to patronize or read this journal.

These pestiferous agitators deserve to be ignored and repelled, and Times patrons and readers are advised to refuse their impudent demands. Any misconduct on the part of these paid emissaries of monopolistic organized labor should immediately be reported to the police.

The hysterical shrieks of union bosses and the cowardly tactics of their hirelings will not stop the onward and upward march of The Times, or abate its zeal to promote the true material welfare of Los Angeles, and the State, and the best interests of all the patrons of this steadfast journal.

QUEER CASE OF MRS. CANTRELL

Lady in Big Sandy, Tenn., Bed Every Two Weeks. Stay Several Days.

Big Sandy, Tenn.—"Every two weeks Mrs. Lucy Cantrell, of this town, has to go to bed and stay there for several days. I suffered untold misery. I seemed to help me, until I tried the woman's tonic. Although I had suffered with womanly weakness seven years before I took Cardui, it helped me more than anything else. It is surely the best tonic for women on earth."

For more than half a century, the woman's tonic, has been helping women, suffering from the various ailments peculiar to their sex. Because your case may be a new one, do not continue to suffer. Give Cardui a trial. It certainly helped thousands of other women, and you feel it helps you. It is perfectly safe, perfectly harmless—and nothing but good.

It costs but a trifle to try, and means so much to you. For sale by all druggists (nearest). Try a bottle today.
